County Government at Crossroads: Voters to Determine Its Future

Romance, excitement, the lure of the unknown... Not exactly words to describe county government in New Jersey, except for that part about "unknown."

But Mercer County voters who step into the voting booth this November will find themselves confronted with a question on the ballot: should a commission be set up to explore new forms of county government?

Voters will also find a list of names — Mercer County residents who are running for one of the nine positions on that commission.

"A golden opportunity!" exclaims Harry Sayen, Princeton resident, who is Republican chairman for Mercer County.

"... a golden opportunity for average citizens to have a first-hand choice in choosing the kind of government they want — and not only that, to get themselves on the ballot and be a commissioner."

Any Mercer County voter who can get 200 signatures on a petition (pick one up at the court house in Trenton), can have his/her name on the ballot and run for commissioner. Deadline for filing is Thursday, September 27.

If county voters say "yes" to a study commission, the nine elected will ponder for nine months — should Mercer have a major overhaul, and be re-organized in one of four alternative ways, or should things be left as they are? Voters will then vote on whether or not to accept the commission's recommendation.

If county voters turn down a study commission, of course, the elected nine will simply fade away.

So far, about 15 people have asked for petitions. Nobody has yet returned one, with its 200 signatures. In the Princeton area, petitions have been taken out by James McGuire of Pennington, Carl C. Finstman of East Windsor and Eric Bolasky of Lawrenceville. The rest of the 15 are from the Trenton area.

Candidates for the nine positions will be listed on the ballot in order according to a drawing to be held October 4. They can't be listed by party affiliation.

"I'm pushing for a bi-partisan slate," Mr. Sayen says. "I'm going to talk with Ray Steen—he's president of the Mercer County-Trenton Chamber of Commerce—with Jim Banner of Common Cause, and with people in the League of Women Voters. Get together a good bipartisan slate, and form an ad hoc committee to back it."

"People from all walks of life ought to be on this commission—labor people, businessmen, academicians. It's terribly important!"

Mr. Sayen would also like to see local officials run for commissioner, although he acknowledges that they're pretty busy doing just local government.

"What happens in this county study thing will vitally affect municipalities," he points out. "It's an ideal chance to get across exactly what your municipal problems are, and where you need help!"

When Mr. Sayen talks about getting across your problems, he's referring to the hearings that will be eventually held by the nine members of the study commission.

ZAP! ANOTHER SPEEDER GUNNED DOWN: This Buck Rodgers gun wielded by Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli is death only against speeders. It's a Speedgun, a small but highly effective device acquired by Borough police to aid in enforcement of speed laws. By simply pointing the gun at on-coming—or departing—traffic, Ptl. Mucciarelli receives an instant digital feedback of the speed of each car. Story, page 6.

Council Names 5-Member Rent Levelling Board

The Borough's five-member rent levelling Board was appointed Tuesday night by Council shortly after the governing body unanimously passed some amendments to the new rent levelling ordinance. Members of the new body are Hans Lechner, 15 Madison, who has frequently expressed to Council the landlord's point of view; Margaret Schmidt, now of Palmer Square, but formerly of Humbert Street and a vocal exponent of the tenant point of view; Alan Wallack, 29 Hamilton, a lawyer; Thomas Turner, 224 John Street, who lives in an area of many rental units, and Oliver Houghton, of the real estate firm.

One rent law amendment allows a landlord to accumulate allowable cost-of-living rent increases from lease period to lease period. This means that a landlord who doesn't want to raise the rent of, say, an elderly tenant, won't lose his allowable increase forever. Another change stipulates that a landlord can only impose tax and capital improvement surcharges when the lease expires, not in the middle of a lease. And a third change, under the hardship clause, lets a landlord increase the rent by adding routine maintenance costs if his cash position is zero or "negative zero." The law previously hadn't made any allowance for profit.

Public Invited. Strict budget timetables, allowing time and place for the public to express ideas before the municipal budget is presented for formal public hearing, were adopted by Council as they already have been by Township Committee. Under the new procedure, municipal administrators draw up the budget.

One change from the Township version: on a 4-2 vote, Council adopted an amendment proposed by Councilman Martin P. Lombardo. It "requires" that agencies open budget meetings to the public in advance of the public hearings before municipal administrators.

"You mean we'd just say to the public 'Well, here we are without giving them any budget to comment on?'" asked John Hammer, treasurer of the library's trustees. That was the general idea, Mr. Lombardo explained. An agency's programs would be described, without dollar amounts attached, and the budgets would be constructed from what the public said it wanted.

"This changes the concept of what a board member is supposed to do," protested Mr. Hammer. "It would make us only a filter for all the brainy — and freaky — people who showed up. It detracts somewhat from the work of an agency."

Mayor Robert W. Cawley said he didn't agree. The two "no" votes came from Councilman Arthur Morgan and from Councilman Thomas Cawley, who reminded Council that meetings of various municipal agencies were open to the public anyway.

Climb Aboard. Most of Council's meeting was a free-wheeling, two-wheeling discussion of the proposed new bike routes announced last week. Unlike the Township, temporarily stalled by cost problems (see page 3), the Borough sailed right through the curb-cut as Council unanimously introduced the $30,000 construction ordinance. Money will be raised through a bond issue. Public hearing Tuesday, October 9.

Two concerns developed as the evening went on: bike path width, and Chestnut Street. Bike riders and pedestrians alike were apprehensive about the width of the path. In some areas, existing four foot walks will be used; in others, walks will be widened to six feet.

"A four-foot walk isn't even minimum for a two way path," declared Henry Arnold, who is something of a bike guru in Princeton. "Five feet wide is minimum for two way without pedestrians. These paths MUST be wide enough."

Robert McChesney warned that mixing bikes and pedestrians on the same walk way is bad, and he wondered whether cars pulling up to an intersection would stop far enough back to let a bike rider cross in front of the car.

Both these speakers urged the Borough to spend enough money to make the system work, and to make bike ways wide enough.

Councilman Cawley said that only a few paths could be completed this year before frost, and these would provide useful trial runs for the system as a whole.

The bike proposals suggest that Chestnut Street be made one way north, to make bike riding possible in the roadway. Fire Chief Lawrence Dupraz has informed Mayor Cawley of the three fire companies' objections. (see Mailbox, page 13.)

Engine Company No. 1 is on Chestnut Firehouses on one way streets automatically draw "deficiency" points from the state, Chief Dupraz said, which could mean a lower rating and consequently higher fire premiums for Princeton residents.

"We just don't know what the answer is to Chestnut," Mayor Cawley said. Councilman Robert Powell suggested shifting the bike way to Maple.

Praise from Charles St. John, chairman of the Princeton Bikeways Committee, and unanimous passage of the ordinance drew audience applause.

County Government

"If only to get an airing, for those nine months, to find out what county government is all about!" he exclaims.

"Princeton is supposed to be the 'Athens of America,'" Mr. Sayen laughs. "Well, you could walk down Nassau Street and find maybe one person in a thousand who can tell you what county government is like. But it's a $30 million corporation!"

"Government in Mercer County has been under a rock," he shakes his head. "I mean, county meetings at 2 in the afternoon..."

"The fact that people don't know what the devil it's all about, proves my charge that present county government is just not responsive."

Medieval Word. Mercer has what observers call a "weak" form of county government. The elected governing body is the Board of Chosen Freeholders. It's a medieval word, Freeholder, referring to the fact that in colonial times, only holders of real property could vote or hold office.

Freeholders can't legislate. As pointed out by the state's Minto Commission (formed to study county and municipal government) from a purely legal view, the county doesn't even have the power to tax its residents, much less to legislate, reorganize, or provide vital services.

In fact, there isn't any law authorizing the county—or any New Jersey county—to provide for the "safety, health and welfare" of county residents, as municipalities are authorized to do. Functions have simply been added on over the years.

If the study idea passes in November, the commissioners would consider four optional forms. All of them have some things in common: they provide for a professional, central administration accountable to elected leaders; they give the county power to enter voluntary agreements with municipalities to provide services on a cost basis.

"You know, getting back to people's ignorance and indifference where the county is concerned—maybe it would be good to have Freeholders elected by district," Mr. Sayen suggests. "If you had a Freeholder from the two Princetons, you'd have more local interest, more local say-so on where your county tax dollars go."

"I'm not pumping for any one plan," he emphasizes. "I want to hear arguments on all sides. Let's elect a commission, explore all the possibilities, then come to a decision."

SEWER TROUBLES

Will Regional Sewer Be Built? With no money and no formal approval of its plans, the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority seems to be in one of its low water points.

Ezra Bixby of Pennington, chairman of the sixtown Authority, said last week that the Authority will formally ask the state's Environmental Protection Commissioner Richard J. Sullivan to send the Authority's one-treatment-plant proposal to the Federal government for approval.

Mr. Bixby also said that Federal money appears to have evaporated as of July 1.

In August, Commissioner Sullivan, meeting privately with members of the Authority, told them he was willing enough to send their plans to the Federal Environmental Protection Agency, but doubted that the EPA would approve them.

Mr. Sullivan said he believed the EPA would be afraid that a single plant plan would open up too much space to development and a population explosion, and would possibly drain ground water in the Hopewell area.

The Commissioner has suggested that the Authority ask for Federal money to build a plant for the two Princetons and West Windsor and a smaller plant on Stony Brook to take care of Pennington and the parts of Hopewell Township that are near Pennington.

Bicycle Paths Hit a Bump in Township: Cost Unexpectedly High

Bike route proposals braked to a temporary halt Monday night at Township Committee, slowed down not by curbs but by dollars.

Cost estimates on widening present four-foot walks to a bike-ready six feet, were unexpectedly high, said Committeeman Abbot Low Moffat, so the first bike ordinance won't be introduced until Com— well, the adults may just keep to the streets, which would be illegal.

Mayor Jay Bleiman assured Mr. Holloway he wouldn't be illegal if he were in the streets, and Mr. Moffat said the bike committee hopes that a six-foot width will be "reasonable" for cyclists. To Mr. Holloway's protest against curbs, Mr. Moffat said cuts will be flush with the pavement, not endowed with the two-inch lip that many driveway curb cuts have.

Funds Already Budgeted.

Questions and Answers. Lack of an ordinance didn't slow down the dozen or so residents who came to Township Hall, chiefly to support the new bike routes but also to ask some questions.

"Serious adult bike riders may avoid your paths and stay in the streets because of curbs and curb-cuts," was the genial warning of Leith Holloway, 32 Monroe. He told Committee he bikes about 1,000 miles a year and doesn't much like biking on sidewalks.

Adults may easily hit 20 m.p.h. on a downhill run, he explained, and with a 10-20 m.p.h. average speed, and little kids on the bike routes

Sutphin replied that the $35,000 cost to the Township is already in the '73 capital budget, "and has been in the budget in previous years."

"We're fitting the plan into money already provided," Mr. Sutphin explained.

Mr. Barr was also concerned about sacrifice of trees to bike paths. Not so, he was assured. Township Engineer Joseph Hodak said he didn't know of a single tree that would topple to make way for a path.

The bike route proposals, outlined last week by both Township and Borough, are Phase I of a plan which, Mr. Moffat declared, may take six to eight years to complete.

Some in the audience described bike-car-pedestrian master highways in Europe, or asked when the bike committee would lay out routes for kids in the Riverside area to reach John Witherspoon Middle School, and what about a Great Road hike route for Princeton Day School and St. art Country Day?

"We must use what we already have," replied Committee member Barbara Smoyer, referring to existing walks and streets labeled "bikes."

"What we want to do first, is get kids to the schools and people to the center of town, but we can't do it all at once."

"A modest and continuing program is important," added Committeeman William Sutphin. "It would be too burdensome on the taxpayer to do it all at once."

Great Road Later. Bike routes on The Great Road, Mr. Moffat explained, are complicated by lack of right-of-way and the difficulties of acquiring property rights.

Safety concerns were expressed by Carl Faith, 199 Longview, who warned that collisions were inevitable on a six-foot-wide bike path. He estimated that 80 percent of all bike riders have no lights, and he urged police to enforce bike laws, especially against young riders. He pointed out that many kids dangerously ride side by side, instead of Indian file, so they can ride and chat.

No law requires bike manufacturers or sellers to provide lights with reflectors on a bike, said Police Chief Frederick Porter. He urged Committee to push for such legislation and Mr. Sutphin said

Race Street Parking. Dismounting Committee introduced a few ordinances. One bans parking on the west side of Race Street legalizing a rule long enforced without a proper ordinance to back it up.

Another ordinance provides for a sidewalk on Ewing's west side between Valley and Guyot, and a third empowers the administrator to draw up the budget. Public hearing on all, October 1.

Committee rescinded an August 6 resolution requiring Princeton Theological Seminary to change its Mt. Lucas concrete sidewalks to black top. Work has progressed too far and it would be too costly, explained Mr. Moffat. The rescinding was unanimous.

With mild and pleased surprise, Committee learned of a $2756.14 windfall. It's the Township's share of $4 million in settlement of a tri-state class action suit against several gasoline companies charged with monopolizing the sale of bulk gasoline between 1955 and 1965 and over charging.

Mayor Blumman named four to a revived Joint Historic Sites Committee. The committee set up in 1964 has been inactive. Members are: Constance Greif and Nancy Knox of the Princeton Historical Society; Dorothy Whitman, Librarian at the University's School of Architecture; and William Shelman, on the architecture faculty.

charges were issued in an accident on Friday he was an 11-year-old bicyclist and a car.

The cyclist, Adam H. Baran, 11, of Princeton, was taken by the Princeton Fire and Ambulance to Princeton Medical Center where he was treated for a laceration of his left leg and a laceration of his right leg.

Sweeney Jr., 40, of Alexander Street, was riding a bicycle when the cyclist darted and ran into the car's right side, knocked off the hood and landed on the pavement.

Passengers Hurt. Two passengers were injured slightly when the car in which they were riding was involved in a collision Friday evening at the intersection of Alexander Street and College Road. Francis Chin, The Graduate College, was treated for contusions of the chest at the Medical Center. Phillip Chu, 15 Madison Street, was treated for a strain of the left thigh. Both were passengers in a car operated by Lok P. Chang, 22, of Trenton.

Mr. Chang was ticketed by Sgt. Ralph Proaccino for failing to yield the right of way to Gordon I. Rozand of Princeton Windsor Apartments.

RULING IS DUE

On Interstate 95, Federal Judge Clarkson S. Fisher has promised a decision "as soon as possible" on whether the 14-mile section of Interstate Route 95 under construction through Hopewell Township has received proper Federal design approval.

If Judge Fisher determines proper approval hasn't been given, the U.S. District Court in Trenton could order an immediate halt to the construction until public design and environmental impact state-ments are held.

He heard the last of testimony by both the Citizen 196 Group, represented by New York Attorney David Saxe, and officials from the New Jersey and Federal Departments of Transportation.

In 1967, the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia ruled Judge Fisher's original findings. Last fall, but the Princeton Citizens 196 Group had no basis for its in-tervention against the routing.

The Circuit Court ordered Judge Fisher to reopen the hearings on the narrow issue of whether Federal Design approval or its equivalent was completed prior to August 24, 1967, when Congress enacted new highway legislation, which required highway design public hearings.

Lombardo to Stay Here

Borough Councilman Martin P. Lombardo has decided to remain in Princeton. Mr. Lombardo was considering a job offer which would have taken him to Colorado, but he announced this week that he wants "to remain in the community where I was born and raised."

Mr. Lombardo is running for reelection to Council on the Democratic ticket. He is rounding out his first three-year term on the Borough's governing body.

SCULPTURE STUDIO: Its curving outlines almost concealed from view by a giant hemlock, junipers and a towering beech in Morquand Park, this glass-roofed sculpture studio has been commissioned by J. STUDIO PROPOSED

For Future Public Use. A glass-roofed sculpture studio which would eventually become a public or semi-public building was described to the Princeton Regional Planning Board at its September meeting last week.

J. Seward Johnson Jr. wants to build the studio for his own use on land adjoining Morquand Park, with access from Mercer Street. Upon Mr. Johnson's death or at his choice during his lifetime, the building would be donated either to the Morquand Park Foundation or the Borough of Princeton to be used as nature museum or gallery.

Site plans for the building were approved. The board deferred action on Mr. Johnson's request for a favorable use-variance recommendation to the Borough Zoning Board because final plans on disposition of the building haven't yet been made.

The proposal is on the zoning agenda for September 27, but the Planning Board must make its recommendation first. William Short is architect for the studio. He has designed 16 Vandeventer. Mr. Bunting wants to convert a downstairs apartment into an office, and combine four second floor rooms now used by roomers, into one apartment.

In other matters, the board tabled action on plans of William Bunting for property at

Tell-Tale Speedgun Clocks Cars Accurately

It is going to be harder than ever to break speed laws in the Borough—thanks to a new Speedgun that police are now using.

Weighing only a few pounds, the Speedgun resembles an oversized 8mm movie camera and can easily be operated by one patrolman. "It will be used to augment out present standard radar unit and marked and unmarked cars," commented Chief Michael Carnevale.

Probably those who will be the first to fall victim to the Speedgun will be the hot rodders around the high school streets and in the John Witherspoon Street area.

The tree streets of Chestnut, Pine, Spruce, Maple and Linden will receive priority, Chief Carnevale explained, because of the "constant complaints" against speeders there and because it is difficult to use standard radar equipment on short streets.

Nothing bothers the Speedgun. Costing $1,000, it can accurately measure the speed of any car, coming or going up to a distance of one mile. And do it instantaneously.

All the operator has to do is point. A digital readout of the speed of the target car flashes on a panel in the back. The speed can also be "locked in" to show any disbelieving motorist.

The Speedgun operates on the same principal as the larger radar units but the same miniaturization that has reduced calculators to the size of a pack of cigarettes has produced the Speedgun, which Chief Carnevale described as a "very sophisticated, fantastic instrument."

"It's a proven method," observed Chief Carnevale. Court cases in New Jersey involving the Speedgun have already been upheld," he said.

All members of his department, Chief Carnevale reported, have been trained by the Speedgun factory representative. In addition, all have received a minimum of eight hours of familiarization on the road with it.

Borough police have already issued tickets as a result of the Speedgun. "We were lucky," observed the Chief. "Pat David Lewis had two weeks familiarization with it at Ft. Dix while he was at National Guard duty." The Dix installation has two Speedguns.

The only other community in the area with a Speedgun is Trenton. Lt. Carnevale reported. There are 25 in other communities throughout the state, most of them in northern New Jersey.

The Speedgun is tested before and after every use. In a demonstration, Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli struck a tuning fork calibrated for 30 miles and held it in front of the Speedgun. A red "30" instantly flashed on the rear. Then he struck a fork calibrated for 50 miles and held the vibrating instrument in front of the gun. Again a red 50 flashed. When he aimed the gun at a line of traffic, the speed of each car flashed on.

"I think this will very definitely curb speeding in the Borough," predicted Chief Carnevale. "If a driver sees a patrolman point what looks like a Buck Rogers gun he's been checked by radar."

For speeders, the world of Buck Rogers has arrived much too soon.

The board found itself agonizing over which course would be best for planning purposes: offices or apartments. The conversion would mean a net loss of four single one-room dwellings.

Executive session for the board is scheduled for September 19 and the Bunting matter may come up then. It is on the Zoning Board's September 27 agenda.

The Itasty Scupper Restaurant was given site plan approval to add a 16x20 foot storage area to its kitchen and the First Aid and Rescue Squad received approval to construct a storage bay on its Harrison Street headquarters.

The appearance of H.M.S. Land Co. to discuss its terrace housing on Great Road East and Stuart Road was postponed. The company may appear at the Planning Board's October 2 meeting.

The board recommended that the Township Zoning Board approve Cheryl C. Miller's plans for a residence in an Office Research Zone. The property, at 825 Mt. Lucas, was previously in a residential zone and has houses on either side.

TO BUILD WALL

Restraining Brook. Five residents of Queenston Common and a few neighbors down stream on Harry's Brook, decided at a meeting Monday to restrain the brook with a seven-foot high retaining wall 31 feet long. Borough Councilman Robert Powell reported the decision to Council Tuesday night.

He also said the state told him its officials would "negotiate on penalties" — the state's own phrase — with Queenston's developer regarding possible encroachments in to Harry's flood plain.

Originally, Borough officials thought the penalty question would be handled through the state attorney general's office but Mr. Powell said the question now seems to be in the hands of the Bureau of Water Resources.

Councilman Thomas Cawley said the Borough should have a written statement from Queenston's homeowner's association committing the association to maintaining the stream's banks.

THE CREATIVE CHILD WILL PROSPER, IF ...

- We refrain from volunteering our interpretation of the child's work, and instead ask him about it.
- We avoid teaching perspective and other rules of drawing to the young child. (Great artists have brought their art into the realm of child's art.)
- We abolish the poster contest. (If a hundred children have participated, and three are winners, simple math reveals three encouraged children and 97 disappointed ones.)
- We disavow any type of competition in art among children—in the home, in the classroom, or on the county and state levels.
- We remember that an honest exhibit of children's art is made up of a display of every project that each child has created; and there are no judges and no winners. (There is little as beautiful as an exhibit representing the productivity of all children.)
- We avoid the coloring book, the paint-by-numbers canvasses and most pre-cut, pre-measured art kits.
- We encourage the child to make his own decisions. In history class he is taught what happened; in math a pre-determined set of rules guides his thinking; in arts and crafts the plan should be his; the project HIS!
- We guide the child to transform a vague idea into a project, yet keep him independent of our tastes.
- We teach the child techniques of craftsmanship and the correct handling of tools, yet never demonstrate nor draw on his work.
- We teach the child to complete projects. He will then gain confidence which will help him in the face of other tasks.
- We refrain from bringing a completed sample to class. It inhibits the child's own ideas.
- We show interest in, and respect for, the projects the child brings home.
- We remember that in the arts and crafts world, imagination must be exercised. If it is not, creativity will eventually be buried under a pile of rules, regulations and inhibitions.

News Of The THEATRES

GABLE AND LEIGH BACK
In "Gone With the Wind,"
Two uncut showings of "Gone With the Wind," one of the great modern film classics, will open McCarter's 1973-74 film season.

"Gone With the Wind" will be shown this Saturday at 2 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. in its 225-minute entirety.
Tickets will be on sale at $2 from Saturday.

This is the first year the 1939 classic has been made available for showings on college campuses, according to McCarter. For many years, the film was the box-office champion but in recent years it has been topped in grosses by "The Sound of Music."

Margaret Mitchell's best-selling novel about the Civil War stars Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh, with Leslie Howard and Olivia De Havilland in supporting roles. The film won 10 Academy Awards in 1939.

McCarter's regular "Movies-at-McCarter" series will open Tuesday, October 1 with two showings of "Five Easy Pieces."

ROCK TO "VERONA"

Musical Scheduled. I adore it," said Chye Barnes of the New York Times. He was directing his adoration toward the rock musical, "Two Gentlemen of Verona" whose touring company will give four performances in McCarter starting Thursday, September 20 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are now on sale.

Performances at McCarter will also be given Friday and Saturday, September 21 and 22 at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday at a 2:30 matinee.

First presented by Joseph Papp's Shakespeare Festival,
"Verona" bowed in an outdoor performance in Central Park two summers ago. It was transplanted to Broadway later for a long run.

Music is by Galt McDermot who wrote the score for "Hair" and the adaptation from Shakespeare is by John Guare and Mel Shapiro.

SPECIALISTS ON HAND

For New Arts Group. Theatre and dance specialists will teach this fall in the dance and theatre programs to be offered by groups affiliated with the new organization called Princeton Interrelated Arts.

Classes in improvisation and choreography will be given by the Dance Coop. A workshop in the basics of choreography will be under the direction of Bonnie Byrns, who has a degree in education from Wheelock College in Boston and has studied at the Boston Ballet School.

Each choreography student will have the opportunity to work on a dance which will be shown at the end of the semester. The best will be given a public performance later in the year.

Improvisation will be guided by Abigail Ewert Kaplan, who holds a degree in dance from the Boston Conservatory of Music, and has studied at the Merce Cunningham School in New York.

"Improvisation is very valuable for anyone who wants to progress beyond dance as exercise, and explore dance as a movement experience," she explains, adding, "It is also a great deal of fun."

Information from the Dance
Co-op may be obtained by calling 921-8873, 921-3461 or 201-

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm.

Ever hear of Philippus Aureolus Theophrastus Bombastus von Hohenheim? Better known as Paracelsus, this Swiss physician born in 1493, was a real rebel in medicine. He gave medical lectures in German instead of the more accepted Latin. He recognized many occupational diseases such as dust disease of miners as well as many others. Paracelsus helped medicine by overthrowing the thoughtless subservience to ancient authority; and with the new spirit of the Renaissance, many new contributions were made to medicine. Friendly service and top quality always prevails at THE FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon. Stop in today and see our complete line of surgical supplies including wheel chairs, walkers, commodes, hospital beds and supports. All are available for sale or rent. Phone 921-7287.

and directing of theatre workshops in the Princeton area. She came here from Houston, where she worked at the Alley Theatre and with the Association of Childhood Educators. On her staff is Amie Brockway, formerly with McCarter Theatre, and the founder of Princeton's Street Theatre. She has led drama workshops for children and adults in Princeton and in various Ohio communities, and she is currently continuing her training in professional theatre at the State University of New York. She will lead a Saturday "Wider Theatre Experience" program for Creative Theatre Unlimited.

Classes in creative drama will be taught by Barbara Padgett, who will also lead an Arts Investigation Forum. A former member of the San Antonio Independent School District, she has had experience developing curriculum materials for grades four through six, and has led workshops on using the arts as teaching tools for children and teachers. Sala Wyman, who will be associated with the Wider Theatre Experience program, worked for three years on children's theatre projects with the Living Stage of the Arena Stage in Washington, D.C. She led workshops in Washington also, and has worked with inner city theatre groups.

READY TO DANCE?

Ballet Society Opens. The coming season will be the 20th for the Princeton Ballet Society, founded in 1954 by Audree Estey who is still its director. On the class schedule for this year are 45 classes in classical ballet for kindergarten beginners, through advanced adults; five sessions of modern dance and six in modern jazz. Over 600 student were enrolled in the school last year.

Registration will be held this Saturday between 9:30 and 12:30, and next Monday and Tuesday between 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. at the Society's studio, 262 Alexander. Classes will start September 24. Information may be obtained by calling 921-7758.

Members of this year's faculty will be Lila Popper Brunner, Joan Mortan Lucas, Jerry Ross, Ruth Langridge, Judy Leviton and Christina Klotz, with Mrs. Estey as the head. The Society's music staff is led by Marlois Kierman.

Guest teachers from New York who will be returning are David Anderson (ballet); Kathryn Posin (modern dance) and Terry Nicholson (modern jazz).

FILM SERIES PLANNED

By Westminster. "Civilization," the highly praised color film series on the cultural life of Western man, will be shown at Westminster Choir College beginning Monday, September 17, and continuing each Monday through December 17, with the exception of November 19. The series of 13, 50-minute films is open to the public.

They will be shown at 8 and 9:30 p.m. in Room 1 of the Talbot Library-Learning Center.

The special showing of these films, which are on loan from the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., is made possible by matching grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities, and from Xerox Corporation.

Under this program, the films are being distributed to colleges and universities with fewer than 200 undergraduates. According to J. Carter Brown, director of the National Gallery, "The distribution program has been designed to make it possible for audiences all over the country to see the 'Civilization' films on the large screen and with the fidelity of their original film form."

The films were written and narrated by art historian Kenneth Clark, who for eleven years was Director of the National Gallery in London, and on two occasions was Slade Professor of Fine Arts at Oxford University.

They trace the story of Western civilization through the visual arts, music, literature, and political history, from the fall of the Roman Empire through the 20th century.

They deal with such subjects as the Gothic cathedrals, the age of chivalry, St. Francis of Assisi, the Renaissance and the Reformation, the Baroque and Rococo, bourgeois democracy in Holland and the Dutch painters, the Enlightenment in Europe and America, romanticism and revolution in the 19th century, and modern technology and materialism.

AUDITION SCHEDULED

For Gilbert and Sullivan Opera. Auditions for the cast, orchestra and tech crew of the Princeton Inn Theatre production of "Ruddygore," an opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be held at the Princeton Inn from Tuesday through Friday next week.

The show, to be directed by Cary Mazer, will be performed November 8 through 11 and 15 through 18.

Auditions are open to the general community. Sign-up sheets are located in the Princeton University student center. For further information, call 452-7205.

PLAYHOUSE

The Macintosh Man. John Houston's spy story of high level crime and international intrigue, starring Paul Newman, Dominique Sanda and James Mason, is fuzzy around the edges and much too predictable for a Houston film. The audience is so far ahead of the characters that all the viewers are prepared for twists and surprises that can never come, and thus they feel cheated.

Newman is a thief who on assignment from a London boss steals a fortune in diamonds. An informer turns him in and he is jailed. If you don't smell a rat yet, you will when an international scientist turned double agent is housed just down the cell block from Newman. It's cat-and-mouse time but it takes an hour before one finds out that Newman is on our side, the scientist on their's.

Thrown in are prison escapes, manor escapes, yacht escapes and a good deal of pursuit, which is de rigueur for any spy thriller. But although Newman is pursued steadily, most of it is thoroughly anticlimactic.

Newman is capable as always and Mason stands out in his portrayal of an oily English Lord. Miss Sanda, so bewitching a few years ago, is a total blank. There may have been worse stories than this but not many. (PG)

GARDEN

I Could Never The full title of this slight but well done comedy about four reluctant adulterers who rent a beach house together and find that wife-swapping is not as easy or as much fun as it might appear, is "I Could Never Have Sex With Any Man Who Has So Little Respect For My Husband." It's a good clue to the wit in the script by Dan Greenberg.

Despite the provocative title, "I Could Never" is far less a sex film — it has an R rating — than a warm satiric look at the clambles of two nice married couples whose good nature wins out over their lust in their first battle with the sexual revolution.

Greenberg strives hard to make his character recognizable but some of the situations he places them in are forced. The four lead roles are beautifully played by relatively unknowns in film but very recognizable from television commercials. Their performances are low-keyed and eminently believable.

Greenberg's screenplay detailing the long-winded doubts and short-lived attempts at actual horseplay are believable.

WARM IN WINTER: Totino Mennella of The English Shop models a luscious street length sheepskin coat. Warm enough to keep you snug on the coldest winter day, it's the kind of coat you never want to take off.

IT'S NEW To Us

CLASSIC LOOK UPDATED
At The English Shop, the mod look which never totally caught on in Princeton, appears to be on it's way out. The appearance of more button-down shirts, three-button suits, vests, sweater dresses and tweed skirts at The English Shop represents this season's return to a more classic look.

Looking at the suits for business and dress we saw a definite establishment look represented by a three-button natural shoulder suit, some with vests. We saw chalk stripes, tweeds, solids and muted glen plaids. $130-$190; and we greatly admired a three-piece wool sportsuit in a blue and brown houndstooth check. $175

The three-button look is also present among the sportcoats.

However, in addition to the classic herringbones, hounds-tooths and heathers, there are some wild tartan plaids, such as the green Princess Mary that has a red, yellow, blue and white overplaid. With the exception of a beautiful camel's hair jacket, all the sport coats are priced from $65 to $135

This more classic look also means lots of vests. We saw tartans again, tattersalls, and a ribbed wool knit sweater vest by Cox Moore of Scotland that comes in grey, green, mustard or burgundy red. $25

Sweaters as Vests. This vest look is also achieved by sweaters, and here we saw sleeveless v-neck sweaters, some of which are cardigans. They come in many colors and in an argyle pattern of red and blue or orange and brown. $11.50 to $21

Other sweaters include crew necks, Irish patterns, cashmere v-necks, and turtle necks in cotton, orlon, or lambswool

The English Shop also has golf sweaters in many colors, but our favorite is a navy ribbed sweater with yellow and white banding. by Hathaway. $27.50

Then to go under these jackets and sweaters are lots of pants, such as corduroys in many colors such as green, tan, brown and red or in a striking brown or blue houndstooth. $16.50 to $26. There are also bright glen plaids and even a Princess Mary tartan like the jacket. $39.50.

Other thoughts from the men's side of The English Shop include more button-down shirts from Gant and Hathaway; a short-sleeved chemise Lacoste in almost any imaginable color and popular year round; and butterfly bow ties to top off that vest-look

Changing Sides. Over on the women's side of The English Shop, the department's buyer, Mrs. Gertrude Nesch, told us that she favors classic pant suits that are great for day-time wear, or by changing a blouse and jewelry are also perfect for a casual evening

By Bleyle we saw a gorgeous pink and white check all wool pantsuit with a blazer jacket that is just right for this day into evening wear. $126. Another choice is a camel wool knit pantsuit with a chanel jacket that is handsome with either a brown or orange blouse, $110.

A more casual and yet striking look is found in Pendleton's gold, black, grey and white plaid buttoned cape with matching pants, $85, and also in a Kimberly suit with navy pants and jacket that are set off by a navy and green plaid sweater.

Among the skirts are some that can be coordinated with the pantsuits and also many lovely wool tweeds that have matching cashmere or shetland sweaters by Pringle or Lyle & Scott.

Suits. In keeping with a traditional look we saw many suits. The English Shop has Gala Forest wool suits from Scotland that have a huge back seam in the skirt so that you can really choose your size by the fit of the jacket.

This classic-styled suit comes in solids, tweeds and plaids.

Then for the look of a suit but somewhat dressier, there are jacket dresses. We admired one in a blue and green small plaid that is all silk and another in a gorgeous magenta wool with navy piping.

Sweater dresses are very popular this year and here at The English Shop we saw a heather grey green dress with princess lines and a rolled collar by Tanner, $56. The shirt-waist is another of this season's styles and we loved a handsome white one by David Crystal. It has long sleeves, gold buttons and an encased tie waist, $42.

It's not too early to consider a coat to put over these suits and jackets on a cold fall or winter day. You can choose from fake fur coats, laden coats all weather ones with zip-out linings, and wool tweeds. We loved an all-weather double-breasted coat that has a full raccoon collar, $159 and a camel's hair one with lamb fur trim down the front and around the neck and hem, $160.

The English Shop is at 32 Nassau Street, and the store is open from 9 until 6 Monday to Saturday with Friday evening hours until 9.

NEW LOOK IN SHOES

This Season, At Nassau Shoe Tree, it is easily apparent that this season's favorite shoe has a platform sole, stacked heel and maybe even a sling back.

The most dramatic shoes in the store are by Charles Jourdan. These all have a definite platform and a high, sometimes even a three inch, stacked heel. Among these shoes, we saw a soft brown leather one with a slingback, a brown pump with a pretty satin bow on the toe and a spice patent leather with a Mary Jane strap.

Then, there is the store's most extreme shoe — also by Charles Jourdan. This black patent leather has an open-toe slingback, and very high heel. These shoes cost from $46 to $88.

Caressa also is showing

New Gift Shop to Open

International Arrivals, a new concept in gift shops, will open its newest store in the Princeton Shopping Center Thursday, September 20.

The shop will feature new and unusual gifts, decorator cards, and a complete line of party goods for every occasion.

Many of the gifts will be specially imported from foreign countries, newly discovered shopping and art centers around the world. There will also be native American selections to choose from.

Before changing hands, the shop was known as Happy House. It will be supervised by Vincent DiLascia of Little Silver, who already operates an International Arrivals Shop in Shrewsbury, and also its subsidiary, Gift Winds. The store manager will be Jerilyn Kassel.

some platforms. One with a Gucci-type gold buckle and stacked heel comes in black or wine patent leather, $28; and another that the store's owner's grandson, Jonathan Tobish, calls the shoe of the year, because it is a very simple platform slingback, is available in at least five colors, $25.

However, the Shoe Tree has not forgotten its customers who can't or who don't wish to wear a platform shoe, and the store has many shoes with single soles and lower heels.

With a platform look achieved by a tan mud guard running around the sole, we saw a black kid shoe by Hill and Dale. It also has a tan heel and decorative shoestring bow, $31.

Then, there are classic low-heeled pumps by Selby, $29; and the Alita flats the store has carried for many years in various colors such as navy, mahogany, suede and black kid with different trims.

Another popular shoe this year has lizard prints on kid-skin, and Jack Rogers has a two different styles featuring this print. One with a tassel and gold trim has a stacked heel and platform sole, $35; and the other with a one-inch heel and single sole comes in taupe, black, brown, and navy, $33. The matching handbags are a nice added feature.

Then to round out the Shoe Tree's collection are the flats, mid-heels and wedges by Mikelos of Greece. These suede shoes, some with crepe soles and others with wooden ones, come in several colors and are wonderfully comfortable.

Open Monday to Saturday from 9:30 to 5, the Nassau Shoe Tree is located at 27 Palmer Square West.

and even wise. And for all their surface sophistication at playing strip hide-and-go-seek, the four just don't rate as libertines, a fact that should endear them to audiences.

PRINCE

Jesus Christ Superstar. A hip, contemporary rock opera that brings the reverent, Biblical Jesus Christ down from the stained glass windows.

Fundamentalists may be jarred at seeing crowds wearing long hair, blue jeans and T-shirts, but the film has been embraced by the young people as one that speaks in their idiom. The rock opera itself is a mixture of musical styles, pop culture and religion.

Tom Neeley, who had played Jesus in Broadway and Los Angeles stage productions, stars in the title role. Carl Anderson is Judas; Yvonne Elliman, Mary Magdalene; and Barry Dennen, Pontius Pilate.

1,100 FRESHMEN ARRIVE
Classes Start Monday.
Princeton University's freshman class — numbering just over 1,100 — began an orientation week on Tuesday designed to ease the transition to the life of a college undergraduate. Classes start next Monday. The Admission Office reports it anticipates 795 men and 317 women will enroll in this year's freshman class. This would boost to about 1,200 the number of undergraduate women in the student body. There will be a slight increase this year in the number of minority group students. Of a total of 191 in the freshman class, there will be 102 Blacks, 31 Latinos, 11 Mexican-Americans, 11 Native Americans and 42 Orientals. Last year, the comparable figures were 113 Blacks, 22 Latinos, 14 Mexican-Americans, 5 Native Americans and 27 Orientals, a total of 182.

A record-breaking total of 95 freshmen — 42 men and 53 women — will enroll as doctoral candidates in the Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree last fall. Freshmen enrolled as candidates for the B.S. degree. Some 102 freshmen are sons of Princeton alumni; 60 are alumni daughters, a total of 162.

OFF CAMPUS HOME

For Miss Marcos, Freshman year for one Princeton University student will be spent far from the sociability of dormitory life. Imelda Marcos, daughter of President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines, will live off campus, either in a house or (but where will she find one?) an apartment.

One Filipino guard and one chauffeur will stay with her, according to the University's Dean of Student Affairs, Adele S. Johnson. The Marcos family decided on off-campus arrangements after the University declined to provide housing for guards.

Last spring, about 75 Asian students at the University protested the admission of Miss Marcos and the arrangements being made to protect her. Students were at a rally over President Marcos' imposition of martial law in the Philippines.

GIRL, 19, ASSAULTED

Walking on Franklin Avenue, a 19-year-old Princeton girl was assaulted last week while she was walking on Franklin Avenue near Tree-Ar Place. The incident took place at 8:40 p.m.

The victim told police that a man jumped from the bushes and grabbed her. She screamed and he ran off. She described him as about 23-6-2, white, with dark hair, a small mustache and wearing blue jeans and boots. P.D. Walter Emann investigated.

$600 STAIRCASE STOLEN

From Construction Site. A complete staircase railing valued at $600 was stolen last week from a home construction site at 34 Tennent Court.

Also reported as taken by James S. Northrup, owner of Hopewell Valley Builders, Inc., were three boxes of sheet-metal pipe valued at $150 and three 16-foot pieces of cedar wood worth $25. The items were all removed from the first floor. There were no signs of forced entry, police said.

Wallet Taken. A teacher at Community Park School lost $220 last week when her leather wallet was stolen from her pocket book.

Helpful "Tickets"

Take heart, drivers. That notice you see on your windshield may not be a summons after all. It may be part of a new Crime Prevention Program that Borough police will begin this week.

To try to combat the high incidence of thefts from cars, particularly on University Place and in parking lots, Chief Michael Carnevale has announced that members of his department will start attaching crime prevention sheets to cars with four blocks of information: 1) whether the car was locked or unlocked; 2) whether personal property was left in view; 3) whether keys were left in the car; and 4) other miscellaneous, useful information.

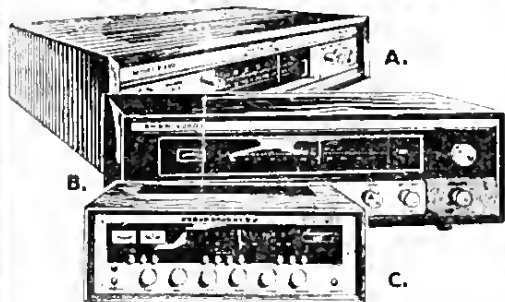

"I think it will help cut down on stolen property," commented Chief Carnevale. He added, "I'm sure some people will be very pleased that it is a crime prevention notice rather than a summons."

Trevor Jacks of Millstone Apartments told police that she had left her purse unattended for an hour in Room 213 Sgt Robert Heacock investigated.

Proceeds Stolen. Eight hundred and fifty dollars, part of the proceeds of an Elks outing, was stolen last week from Charles W. Phox, 292 Witherspoon Street.

Mr. Phox told police that he had placed the entire proceeds, $1145, in a cloth bag in the living room. Police said that entry was through an unlocked rear door.

They have the names of three persons who in addition to Mr. Phox were reportedly the only four who knew the amount and location of the money at the time of the theft. Ptl. James Vandermark investigated.

VANDALS AT WORK

At Riverside School. Vandals for the past two weeks have broken windows at the Riverside School.

This past weekend four windows on the northeast side of the building, which cost $100 to replace, were smashed by three foot sections of a 1 x 2 Ptl. Jerry Offredo reported that the board was protruding through one of the windows when he arrived. Custodian Albert Carter reported the vandalism which took place between 11 Friday night and 12 50 p.m. Saturday.

The previous weekend, seven heavy plate glass windows measuring 38 x 44 inches were broken. No rocks or objects were found near the scene and police believe that a hand held object such as a baseball bat was used. All seven windows were broken in the center at about the same height, police said.

JUVENILE REPORT

Three Caught Shoplifting. Three 11-year-old girls from Kendall Park were arrested last week after they allegedly shoplifted two pairs of corduroy pants valued at $19 from Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

They were observed by Mrs. Constance Ware, security officer for the store. After being processed by Township juvenile officer Det. Anthony Pinielli, the three were released to their parents, pending action by juvenile authorities.

Medical Center Needs Your Time

A call for volunteers of all ages to perform a number of health care - related activities was issued this week by The Princeton Medical Center.

Immediate need for volunteers, according to Administrator Walter A. Seligman, follows "marked increases" in admissions to The Center's hospital, extended care and rehabilitation and mental health units.

Singled out was Merwick, where a number of volunteer positions are available in a wide range of service areas.

"Because of our comprehensive program for extended care and rehabilitation patients at Merwick," Seligman said, "patient escorts, recreational assistants and dietary aides are desperately needed."

Other volunteer positions available at Merwick, he said, include guest receptionists and outpatient registration clerks.

Similar positions are open at The Center's Princeton Hospital Unit and Princeton House, a community mental health center.

Volunteers in each unit, Seligman said, may sign up for as few as three hours a week, and may select either weekday or weekend duty.

Special programs are available for both men and women as well as high school students.

Details and applications may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Deborah Livingston, director of volunteer services, at 921-7700.

Hit and Run Charge. A 16-year-old Township youth has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving without a license by Township police.

According to police, the youth fled the scene of an accident in which he was involved August 29 at Nassau Street and Snowden Lane. He was arrested last Tuesday on information received by police, and later released to his parents.

Police report that there was $500 damaged to the other car. The youth allegedly pulled away from a Snowden Lane stop sign too soon and caused the accident.

TWO ARE FINED

For Careless Driving. Two Princeton residents were fined Monday by Judge Philip Carchman in Borough traffic court for careless driving.

Paying fines of $15 each were Richard W. Huckins, 17, 56 Finley Road, and Joseph R. Flummerfelt, 36, 322 Linden Lane. Mr. Huckins pleaded not guilty.

Also fined $15 each were Filomena Procaccini, 41, 49 Humbert Street, and John H. Lewis, 29, One Mile Road, Cranbury, both for speeding, and Ann J. Smith, 54, 198 Linden Lane red light. A late inspection violation cost Douglas Arcamone, 21, 7 Penn Lyle Road, Princeton Junction, $10.

SECOND MAN ARRESTED In Mugging Incident. Borough police have arrested a second man involved in the mugging a week ago of an 18-year-old Township youth at the Woodrow Wilson Building. The victim, who had his wallet containing $48 stolen, told police that four men jumped him.

Kenneth Goodwin, 22, of Trenton was charged with robbery following his arrest last week on Witherspoon Street near Green by detectives Timothy Huzing and Anthony Ranfone. He was arraigned last Wednesday. Unable to raise the $2,000 bail, Goodwin was sent to Mercer County Jail.

Marijuana Charge. William

Titus, 19, South Brunswick, was arrested last week by Ptl. Ronald Holliday at Spring and Tulane Streets on a warrant from the Franklin Township police, charging him with breaking and entering and larceny.

While he was being processed at Borough headquarters, police found less than 25 grams of marijuana in his possession and charged him with possession of the drug. Released to Franklin Township police, Titus must appear in Borough Court on Wednesday.

One of Those Days. When Gary Sapienza of Trenton appeared in Borough Court last week to answer a charge of breaking and entering and larceny stemming from an incident on the University campus last February, police had a surprise for him: another charge.

A .22 caliber revolver that was found recently in a Princeton parking lot was traced to Sapienza. When he appeared in court, police charged him with possession of a deadly weapon. Bail on the latter was $250.

ASK FOR DIRECTIONS

Take Money Instead. A 17-year-old Trenton youth was robbed of $170 Friday evening by a man who had first approached him outside the First National Bank and asked for directions.

The youth told police that he had just cashed two checks for $83 and $87 when a man approached and asked for directions. The victim continued that the man then led him across Nassau Street to his car where he was forced into the rear by another person. He was driven to the William Street area, where the two forcibly took his money.

One of the men was described by the victim as about 33, 5-7, heavy set, with a Jamaican accent. The other had a mole on his nose, he said. Ptl. Kerry Kink and Ronald Holliday investigated.

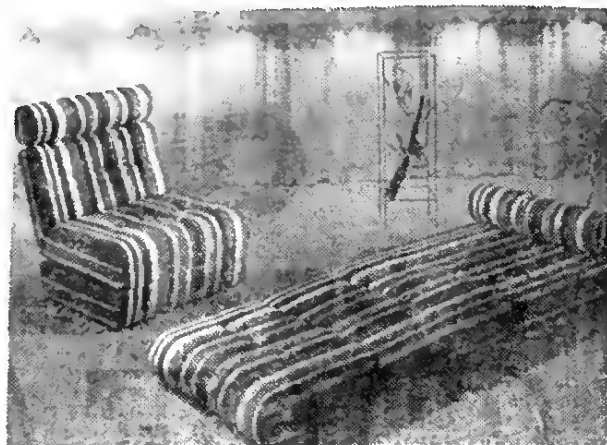

TOWNSHIP MAN FOUND

Took Overdose. Edward F. O'Connor Jr., 39, 350 Mount Lucas Road, was admitted to Hamilton Hospital in Trenton Monday in serious condition, suffering from an alleged heavy overdose of a tranquilizer.

Mr. O'Connor, an employee of Educational Testing Service, was found by Bordentown Po-

Chestnut Should Be Two-Way.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a copy of a letter I have written to Mrs. Barbara Sigmond, a member of Borough Council:

The Princeton Fire Department is very concerned that Chestnut Street in the Borough of Princeton may become a one-way street north.

Engine Company No. 1 is housed on Chestnut Street close to the intersection of Nassau Street. The two parallel streets on either side of Chestnut Street (Moran Ave. and Pine St.) are currently one-way streets with traffic heading north. Should Chestnut Street also become one-way north, the results will be three consecutive one-way streets which is not desirable for fire apparatus traffic.

During an alarm the majority of Engine Company No. 1's personnel approach their fire station from the northern section of Princeton. The three one-way streets create for these firemen a longer route to get to their fire station.

Nassau Street, by necessity would then become part of their route. Not only will this proposal delay the firemen but also curtail the fire apparatus from a quick response to areas south of Nassau Street (particularly the university area).

As a procedure the drivers of fire apparatus could not and would not want to drive in the wrong direction in a one-way street. All apparatus drivers are subject to the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Laws and are not exempt from their enforcement.

Our community fire insurance rating has been a concern of the fire department. Recently discussions have been instituted between the New Jersey Rating Bureau and our fire officials. A fire rating is based on the number of deficiencies occurring in a community.

Fire houses located on one-way streets accumulate additional deficiency points. The deficiency points (50 in this case) could re-classify our fire rating and result in a lower rating for both the Borough and Township. (The Township after many months of labor has recently been given an improved rating.) The lower rating means that a property owner will be paying more money for their fire insurance.

For these reasons, and others not mentioned the Princeton Fire Department does not want Chestnut Street to become one-way.

LAWRENCE L. DUPRAZ
Chief, Princeton
Fire Department

Support Asked for Theatre Co.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I had the pleasure of seeing all of the Princeton Theatre Company's five productions at Rider College this summer. (Through my own erratic schedule allowed me the privilege of reviewing only two of them.)

This group is an asset to the theatre community. It performs with the zest of true amateurs and the skill of professionals. Its plays have been beautifully mounted. It should not be allowed to disappear through my uncertainty about popular support. All who enjoy good theatre should encourage PTC to return.

Tangible expressions of support will let the directors know that Princeton wants them back. A card or letter sent to PTC, Box 214, Lawrenceville, N.J. 08648, at this time is an investment toward next summer.

HERBERT MCANENY

Talk on School Funding Set.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The League of Women Voters would like to call to the attention of the citizens of this area a television program on a subject of vital interest to them. The League is presenting a program "Funding Of Public Schools" on Sunday at 3 on Channel 6 Philadelphia.

The participants will be Dr. Edward W. Kilpatrick, New Jersey Acting Commissioner of Education and Mr. Harold J. Ruvoldt, Jr., the Jersey City attorney who was the prime mover in the Botter decision.

Judge Botter's decision was handed down in January of 1972 and ruled that New Jersey's present system of financing public elementary and secondary education does not satisfy the state constitutional requirement for a "thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all the children in the State between the ages of 5 and 18 years."

He found that the State's heavy reliance on the property tax for financing public education has led to gross inequities both in taxation and in educational opportunities. The Legislature is under mandate to come up with another method of financing the public school system by December 31, 1974 to go into effect no later than July 1, 1975. The Legislature is currently appealing this ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In any event this ruling will have far-reaching effects on the taxpayers of this State and hopefully on the education system. In early December, the Princeton League will sponsor a public meeting at which a panel of well informed people will examine the whole question of financing public education and discuss the proposed alternatives.

In addition we have available a 4-page publication which examines in detail the entire school funding question—its history, present system, the court decisions and various proposals. This is available to interested groups or individuals by calling the writer.

Don't Park on Alexander

Parking on both sides of part of Alexander Street is banned this Wednesday and Thursday so that the contractor can finish reconstructing and widening the road.

The Township's "no parking" ban extends from 134 Alexander to 228 Alexander — both sides of the street. The current work on Alexander, from a point 650 feet north of Faculty, north to the Borough line — brings to a close Princeton Township's Alexander Road project. Any other work on the street is up to the Borough on the north, or West Windsor to the south.

Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street. Instructors are experienced Israelis qualified to teach Israeli Hebrew to Americans.

Classes will be held during the day or in the evenings and are available on three levels for adults or teenagers who are beginners, intermediate or advanced students. The 60-hour course will meet twice weekly for 15 weeks, beginning on Monday, October 8 at 8 p.m. The fee is $70 for Center members and $80 for non-members.

Teachers are Mrs. Nitza Avni, a trained speech therapist and audiologist with a B.A. degree from University of Tel Aviv medical school in Tel Aviv, Israel. Mrs. Avni taught a most successful Ulpan class at the Center last year.

Also teaching will be Mrs. Nechama Greenstein, who taught and was principal of an Ulpan in Israel for many years and who has also taught at the Princeton Center.

Registration will be held on Saturday evening, September 22 from 9:30 p.m. at the Princeton Jewish Center, where there will be an opportunity to meet with the teachers. For additional information contact Mrs. Marilyn Markman, 214D Halsey Street.

OCTOBER FIRST IS THE DAY

Langrock will give 50% to the UNITED FUND- RED CROSS

Monday, October 1st, is the day your United Fund-Red Cross appeal begins. It is the day your contributions are needed to continue the vital work of the twenty Fund agencies and the Red Cross.

To help kick-off this campaign, Mr. Alan Frank, head of Langrock Men's Store at 42 Nassau Street in Princeton, has made an offer to the campaign that can't be beat. On Monday, October first, fifty percent of the dollar purchases made at Langrock will be given to the United Fund. Fifty per cent of every dollar of sales will be given to the United Fund by Langrock. Other merchants are invited to do the same and will display this advertisement on their premises. BUT... on October first, all you buy in these stores, half of every dollar's worth of purchases will go to the 1973 United Fund-Red Cross Campaign. So buy from these merchants on October 1st.

These merchants hope you will patronize these stores on October 1st so that the largest dollar amount possible will revert to your United-Red Cross 1973 Campaign. With your help, your United Fund Campaign will begin with a bang-up kick-off day.

Volunteers Help Boys Starved for Attention

"I'm interested . . ."
The very presence of young Jeff Laschever, as he shows a number to a boy at the Skillman Training School, shows that he cares what happens to the youth.

The personal interest of volunteers like young La-schever, is far more significant in the improvement of the kids than almost any of their activities at Skillman, according to Anthony L.
Mercurino, director of Education at the Training School.

"They get the extra attention they're starving for," he said, "then they can relay and learn easier."

Volunteer teacher aides are now being recruited by the Training School to help improve the reading skills of the boys with the lowest reading score.

Princeton resident Jeff Laschever is one minor teacher Roger Schneeweiss is another. They have been part of the volunteer corps at the Training School since it was first opened just a few years ago. Mrs. Geoffrey E. Sage, also of Princeton, is coordinator of volunteers.
Information may be obtained by calling the school at 466-2200, or Mrs. Sage at her Princeton home, 924-

An orientation for volunteers will be held next Tuesday, from 9:30 a.m. through at 2:30. The second half of orientation will be Wednesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

PLANS TAKE SHAPE

For Hopewell Health Fair. A computerized healthmobile will highlight Hopewell Valley's first Health Fair set for 10 to 14, Saturday, September 22, at the Hopewell Valley Central High School in Pennington.

It is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Hopewell Valley with the encouragement of the Boards of Health of Pennington, Hopewell and Hopewell Township.

The Healthmobile is a completely self-contained mobile clinic which will demonstrate a highly organized battery of sophisticated health tests for hearing, vision, lungs, heart activity and biochemical analysis. Visitors to the fair will be able to observe this unit in action.

Free immunizations, tests, screenings, consultations, and literature will also be available at the health fair. The Mercer County Bloodmobile will type blood and accept blood donations. All health screening will be made on the basis of referral to a family doctor.

Free Shots. Free immunizations will be provided by the State Department of Health and administered by local doctors and nurses. They will be available for polio, to age 12; measles, to age 18; German measles, to age 12; a combination measles and German measles, to age 12; diphtheria and tetanus, to anyone; and diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus, to age 6. Individuals planning to participate should bring immunization records with them.

Free tests will be given for diabetes, blood pressure and oral cancer. To be screened for diabetes, a visitor to the fair should eat a complete breakfast or lunch, including dessert, two hours before being tested. There will also be screenings for eye, ear, speech problems and anemia.

The Hospital Council of Trenton will do Heart Risk factor screenings. Those participating in the screening program will have their blood pressures read, a sample of blood taken for analysis and receive height and weight measurements. The test, which Rodents to V.D. The Nutrition Education Program of the Mercer County Extension Home Economist will discuss nutrition and weight control. The Urban Rodent Control Program of the City of Trenton will answer questions from concerned homeowners. New Jersey Central Division of Podiatry will discuss foot problems.

Consultations will also be given by Project Child; Corner House, in reference to the use of drugs; Medicaid; Social Security; Planned Parenthood Association of Mercer County; Venereal Disease Control; and ASPO, concerning the Lamaze method of prepared childbirth.

Free literature, exhibits and demonstrations, including the use of pictures, films, and videotapes will enable the health organizations to tell their stories.

Dr. Donald Kwalick, Assistant Commissioner for Community Health Services in the State of New Jersey, will participate in opening ceremonies.

Sandwiches, coffee, tea, soda and homemade cakes will be sold by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Titusville Fire Department. The Women's Club of Hopewell will sell homemade ice cream. Agencies of the State Department of Health participating in the health fair include Family Planning, Homemaker Service, Health Mobilization, Division of Narcotics and Drug Abuse Control, Health Education and Program Planning, Parental and Child Health Services, and Accident Prevention and Poison Control.

Mercer County exhibitors at the fair will include the Narcotics Division of the Sheriff's Office, Community Action Program on Alcoholism, the Library, and Mercer Regional Medical Plan.

Area government officials who helped in the planning of the fair include Michael Arcieri, Hopewell Township Committee member with responsibility for health; Fred DeFrank, part-time Township health officer; Sylvia Niederer, Township public health nurse; Henry Thurman, president of the Pennington Borough Board of Health; and Alan Dugan, Hopewell Borough councilman with responsibility for health.

Anyone having questions or wishing to volunteer assistance is asked to contact Mrs. Kay Hymans, 737-0567.

NEW SERVICE STARTED

Musicians' Registry Planned. Flight 2, the leadership development organization by and for youth, has instituted a new free service in the community: a registry and referral agency for musicians and groups.

Musicians and bands are invited to call Flight 2, 924-4992, and give pertinent information about themselves. Flight 2 will supply this information upon request to clubs, high schools and festival organizers seeking musicians for various events. Along with such information as type of music, number of band members, and cost-range for hiring, Flight 2 will also indicate whether or not the group has its own sound equipment and will keep open records on performance data.

Flight 2 is undertaking this service to improve communications in the Princeton area. It has been launched at the request of both community members who reported difficulty in locating musicians and bands for their events, and by musicians who found difficulty contacting all the prospective organizations who might seek out their services.

The Musicians' Registry Service will operate during regular Flight 2 hours, 1 to 5 daily. Already listed with the Registry are groups and individuals ranging from folk to jazz to individuals who play for weddings.

FINANCE COMMITTEE SET

By League of Women Voters. Sally Stillwell, municipal chairman and Gara Anthor, finance chairman of the West Windsor unit of the League of Women Voters announced the formation of a Finance Advisory Committee from within the community.

The Committee is comprised of professional and businessmen who maintain offices and/or live within West Windsor. The following individuals have agreed to serve on the committee.

Carl Applegate, Manager of the Princeton Junction Branch of Nassau Savings and Loan Assn.; Spencer Bruno, President, Bruno Research Associates; John DiPolvere, DDS; Michael Greschak, West Windsor State Bank; Daniel Golden-son, Developer of the Station Office Park; Ronald MacPherson, New Jersey Bell Telephone Co.; J. Dean Pierson, Jr., M.D.; and T. Robert Zochowski, lawyer.

The Advisory Committee will meet with members of the West Windsor League of Women Voters Municipal Board on September 18 to set up plans for the annual fund-raising campaign.

League Needs Funds. Although the League of Women Voters is a dues-paying and non-profit organization, it must seek additional funds from the community in order to maintain the many community services which it provides relating to local, county, state, national and international affairs.

members organize a candidate's night for the community. All candidates are invited to participate in these forums to present their views to the public. The League also prints and distributes non-partisan information on all candidates, bond issues and referendums.

The West Windsor unit has an observer corps whose members attend all West Windsor governmental meetings. Each observer takes notes and submits a written report. These reports have been published on a regular basis in the Lions Newsletter.

Other groups study local problems and make background reports to the general membership so that consensus can be taken from the information provided as to follow-up action to be taken. There are also study groups which are involved with state, national and international subjects.

League members also serve as lobbyists before the State Assembly and before the Congress of the United States. These lobbyists speak on subjects which have been studied by all League units and on which a consensus has been taken. It is not unusual for League members to be sought out by members of Congress for background information on subjects being considered by Congress.

This year the West Windsor Unit is undertaking a project which will require a good deal of work as well as substantial financial support. The League will rewrite the local "Know Your Town" Book which will be printed for resale at a nominal fee. This book will report on all phases of Township activities and facilities, including government, school, recreation, social services, police services, etc.

Although the local League members work out of home "offices," there is a regional office maintained in Trenton with one paid staff member who is aided by volunteers. This office services the local units and provides a place for citizens to phone for voting and registration information. The League also maintains State and National offices.

The League publishes many information pamphlets and booklets on both state and national levels. "New Jersey Spotlight on Government" has proved to be a popular publication. Pamphlets are all so available at nominal fees, which explain county and state government functions. These publications can be obtained through any League member.

The League activities are in full swing with a membership drive now underway. Further information in regard to activities of the West Windsor Unit can be obtained from Sally Sutphen at 789-0772. Guests are welcome to all meetings.

A generation or so ago phone service meant simply having a phone. It was black and had a rotary dial.

But times have changed. Today, convenient phone service means having the right phone, in the right place. That's why we have different phones—all kinds—so you can choose the ones that are just right for you, as well as your home and family lifestyle.

Look around your home. Do you have phones where you need them most—where you live, work or simply spend a lot of your time?

Consider the phones shown here in relation to your home. If you think some changes are in order or want some advice, get in touch with your Service Representative. A call to your local Telephone Business Office will do the trick.

1. Our basic dial phone comes in wall and desk models—in decorator colors at no extra charge.
2. Modern Touch-Tone® service makes calling twice as fast, twice as easy. Available at a special bargain price if you need three or more.
3. The sculptured Trimline® phone puts everything right in the palm of your hand. Since you don't need the base to make a call and because it comes with a longer cord, you can tuck it in an out-of-the-way place.
4. Our stylish, practical Princess® phone. Soft 'night light' dial and compact size make it ideal for the bedroom.
5. The speakerphone lets you carry on a conversation 'hands-free.' Amplifies both sides of the conversation.
6. Card Dialer. It's a telephone...it's a memory bank. Frequently called numbers are recorded on plastic punch cards. To make a call, put the card in the slot and press a button.
7. Wall phones in various sizes, shapes and colors. Including our designer panel phone for the architectural built-in look.
8. If you have difficulty using the telephone, we have special equipment to make calling easier and more enjoyable. Including this phone—it helps you hear better.

MUSIC In Princeton

PATONS TO APPEAR
At Folk Society Concert.
Sandy and Caroline Paton will appear in concert this Friday, at 8:15 p.m. at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

Sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society, the program is the organization's opening concert in a series of folk music presentations for 1973-74.

The Patons have travelled in search of folk songs and ballads all over the United States, Canada, and the British Isles. Their vast repertoire derives from the traditional music of the entire English-speaking world.

Accompanying themselves on guitar, dulcimer, and — occasionally — limberjack, their music is gentle, their style informal, but their scholarship precise.

The Patons have performed all over the country and, in their busy schedule, still find time to run Folk-Legacy Records, a company they helped found in 1961.

Admission for the concert is $2 general admission and $1.50 for students. Society members get a discount and memberships will be available at the door. There are no advance ticket sales.

For further information, contact Mrs. Caroline Mose-ley, 113 Linwood Circle, 921-3588.

MUSIC STUDY OFFERED

By Westminster. The Westminster Choir College Preparatory Department offers students of all ages, grade school through adult, and of all levels of advancement, the opportunity to study piano, organ, flute, voice, violin, cello, recorder, and classical guitar.

Registration for the fall semester is open until September 21. For information call Louise Cheadle, director of the Preparatory Department (921-7100, Ext. 64).

The department offers a balanced program of instrumental and vocal lessons combined with the essential music theory and related workshops designed to complement the applied lessons.

This year, students will be given the opportunity to play in a chamber orchestra. It is designed to accommodate students of all levels of advancement, and will be divided into two groups.

Elementary and intermediate groups will meet every other week throughout the semester for two hours. All students enrolled for private instruction in strings may participate at no additional charge.

Also, students receiving private piano instruction at any level may attend and participate in the Sight Reading program at no additional charge.
These seminars, which will meet four times during each semester, are designed to serve as an introduction to the basic principles of sight-reading at the keyboard.

The preparatory faculty is comprised of 17 concert artists and professional teachers, many of whom are members of Westminster's regular college faculty.

WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

For Piano Teachers. Frances Clark and Louise Goss, directors of The New School for Music Study will present a workshop for piano teachers this Monday at the Holiday Inn, Route 1. The session, which is open to all area piano teachers, free of charge, begins at 9 and ends at 1.

The workshop is a concentrated pedagogy session introducing The Music Tree, a new series of elementary piano materials developed by Dr.
Clark and Miss Goss at The New School.

It is the outgrowth of years of on going teaching and testing with hundreds of begin-

School, plus the experience of thousands of other young beginners who study throughout the country with New School associates.

The Music Tree is a comprehensive step-by-step plan for musical growth at the keyboard, beginning with the very first lesson and carrying the beginning student through the first year or more of study.

Each of the four books in the new series covers every aspect of developing musicianship in the areas of reading, rhythm, teaching, theory, composing and musical performance. A teacher's handbook that accompanies the new books will be given to every teacher who attends.

Advance registrations should be sent to the Frances Clark Library Workshop, Box 407,
Princeton, New Jersey 08540.
Additional information may be obtained from The New School 609-921-2900.

RECITALS SCHEDULED

By Miss Bouboulidi. Westminster Choir College's Artist-in-Residence Rita Bouboulidi will perform 15 of Beethoven's 32 piano sonatas during the first three of seven recitals by her devoted to the early 19th century master.

On Monday, September 24,
she will play Opus 2, No. 1;
Opus 7; Opus 49, No. 2; Opus 54; and Opus 57 "Appassion-ata".

The following Thursday, September 27, she will perform
Opus 13 "Pathetique"; Opus 22; Opus 14, No. 1 and 2; and Opus 53 "Waldstein". On Monday, October 1, she will present Opus 2, No. 2; Opus 27, No. 2
"Moonlight"; Opus 79 "Alla Tedesca"; Opus 78; and Opus 109.

These recitals are presented as part of the 1973-74 President's Series and are open to the public without charge.
They will all be held in Bristol Chapel, on the Westminster campus, and will begin at 8 p.m.

However, because seating is limited, tickets will be required. They may be picked up at the Reception Desk in Williamson Hall beginning two weeks before each recital.

REHEARSALS BEGUN

By Trinity Choirs. Rehearsals for the new choir season have begun at Trinity Church.
Trinity's choir program includes four choirs, the Choir of Men and Boys, the Junior Girls' Choir, the Senior Girls'
Choir and the Trinity Adult Choir.

The various choirs rehearse during afternoons and on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The Choir of Men and Boys sing during the 11 a.m.
Service each Sunday, and the Girls' Choirs and Adult Choir alternate singing for the Sunday 9:15 Service.

Membership in the choirs is open to all qualified singers in the community. At present, there are openings for four boys, age nine to eleven, in the Choir of Men and Boys, three girls, age nine to twelve, in the Junior Girls' Choir, and tenors and basses are needed for the Adult Choir.

The Senior Girls' Choir has reached maximum membership. Prospective choir members are asked to contact the Trinity Church Office for additional information.

PEOPLE In The News

The appointment of John M. Fenton as Director of the News Bureau at Princeton University has been announced by the University Vice President for Public Affairs William H. Weatherly.

Mr. Fenton, 44, a member of the Princeton administration for the past decade, succeeds Dan D. Coyle, who retired this summer as Director of Public Information. The name of the office, which has major responsibility for liaison with the national, state, local and campus press and other media, has been changed to the News Bureau.

Mr. Fenton joined the University staff in 1963 as Assistant Director of Public Information, and has been involved in press relations on a number of the major news stories that developed on campus over the last 10 years, a period marked by the advent of coeducation at Princeton and other significant changes. During 1968-70 he also served as editor of the Princeton University Newsletter.

A 1953 graduate of Wesleyan University, he worked for the Gallup Poll in Princeton before coming to the University. He was involved in most phases of the polling operation, but his major responsibilities were editorial. As the Poll's Managing Editor and Editor, he wrote the syndicated column reporting poll results which appears in more than 100 newspapers.

A native of Trenton, he served with the Marine Corps in China and the South Pacific before entering Wesleyan. He has served on the boards of the Princeton Youth Fund and the Family Service Agency, and is currently Vice President of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization. He is a co-author of the study "The Renter in the Middle," a survey done last spring for Borough Council on the rental situation in the community.

F. Thomas Falley, formerly a part-time Spanish teacher in Princeton High School and an examiner at Educational Testing Service, will begin teaching duties as a Spanish instructor at the Newark Academy in Livingston. Now a resident of Florham Park, Mr. Falley graduated from Columbia University in 1968 and received an M.A. from Columbia in 1971.

Randall Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Payne on Blackwell Road, Pennington, has been admitted to the World Campus Afloat program of Chapman College. He sailed from Los Angeles Tuesday for a semester of studies at sea, terminating December 21.

Peter B. Ludlum, son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Ludlum, 285 Riverside Drive, and Catherine A. Ursie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony V. Ursie, 16 Alta Vista Drive, have been accepted for freshman year studies at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

Navy Construction Recruit Barry R. Henninger, son of Mr. Clair K. Henninger, 22 Clearview Avenue, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center here.

Miss Dorrit Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Hale, 1931 Opossum Rd., Skillman, dormitory president of Grey Towers Castle, returned to Beaver College on September 1 for an orientation period designed to introduce and acquaint the new students with the college program, traditions and campus. A biology major, Miss Hale is a graduate of Montgomery High School.

Herbert E. Alexander of 152 Chover Lane addressed the International Political Science Association Congress in Montreal on the "Impact of New Federal Election Laws in the United States." Mr. Alexander is Director of the Citizens' Research Foundation, a Princeton organization which studies the role of money in politics.

SPORTS FANS!

I
KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's a tough football question with a surprising answer . . . Of all the football coaches who have ever coached high school, college and pro football, which one has won the most total games! . . . The answer may surprise you because it's a man who's coached fewer years than many others . . . The man who's won the most games in history is Paul Brown who, going into 1973, has won 323 games in his coaching career . . . Ranking next is George Halas who won 321 . . . Then Amos Alonzo Stagg who won 314, Pop Warner, 313 and Bron Bacevich, who coached just high school football, and won 306 games . . . Next comes Warren Woodson, 247, Clary Anderson, 241 and Bear Bryant, 211.

Do you know what salary Babe Ruth got his first year in major league baseball, in 1914! . . . Ruth made a grand total of 1,300 in his first big league season!

An oddity of the 1973 baseball season is that almost every Los Angeles Dodger regular player is playing a different position than the one which he started . . . For example, catcher Joe Ferguson, second baseman Dave Lopes and shortstop Bill Russell came up as outfielders; outfielders Bill Buckner was originally a first baseman and first baseman Steve Garvey was originally a third baseman!

I bet you didn't know that people over 65 can buy catastrophe accident and sickness insurance with a limit of $100,000. It is written over medicare and does not require evidence of insurability.

Sound Line Prospects Bolster PHS Football

(This is the second of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1973.)

Last year the Princeton High School football team scored 159 points, 29 more than the opposition and more than five times the output of the ill-starred 1971 team which hung a total of 30 points on the board in losing all its games.

A breakdown in the offensive line was one of the reasons advanced by PHS coach Dick Wood for that dismal season. So the Little Tiger linemen can claim a major role in Princeton High's 5-4 season last year and the outlook for the line this year, if not overly optimistic, is certainly promising.

A pre-season assessment of the offensive line by Wood and his assistant, Jim Beachell, has the Little Tigers strong at both ends and adequate at the center and guard positions. The question marks are at tackle.

No such question marks exist at end. "For the first time since I've been here, we have a really balanced team," said Beachell. And as he went on to amplify his remark, the first thing he mentioned were the set field goal records while attending Indiana University and who, Beachell reports, has signed a no-cut contract with the Dallas Cowboys.

Harwood Co Captain. Although the tackle slots "don't look good," says Wood, he has two candidates who lettered as defensive players last year. David Harwood and Dan Poling. Harwood, a tough 6-3, 205 pound competitor who is co-captain of the team with half back Bob Zinsmeister, might have to play offense this year. Poling, 5-9, 220 pounds, is in the same situation.

Another is Louis DiFazio who was highly promising last year until he injured his hand and had to sit out most of the season. He's 5-10 and 185 lbs.

Two more senior possibilities are Keith Rendall, (6-0, 187) who has good speed but didn't play as a sophomore, and Rich Edwards, who has the best 198 pounds but not the experience. A newcomer to PHS, he did play a lot of jayvee ball, Wood said.

RETURNING PHS END Richard Warfield will team with Mike Diamond to give the Little Tigers experience and ability at both flanks. Warfield is a senior.

There are three juniors hoping to earn a tackle berth: Pete Healey, 6-2, 169, who the coaches say lacks only confidence in himself; Mike Michael, 6-2, and probably the heaviest on the squad at 280; and Rich Saunders, 5-11, 171. Wood recalled that the latter's father, Mel Saunders, was "one of the best single wing centers I ever coached."

Guards. The guard spots are solid with the return of two lettermen, Jeff Drummond, (6-0, 185) and Guy Mendelson (5-10, 185). Said Wood, "Both are able to move and an aggressive." Drummond, added Wood, gets better every year and was "dependable. You could put him in any spot and get results."

two starting ends, Mike Diamond (5-11, 171) and Richard Warfield (5-7, 151).

"For just pure football sense, Diamond has to be one of the best on the team," observed Beachell. "He's a good receiver, too." Diamond played more defense than offense last year but still managed to grab two TD passes of 31 and 37 yards from John Mooney, this year's starting quarterback.

Warfield's measurements, especially the 5-7 height, would seem to rule him out as an end. But he is, as he proved last year, very quick and facile at getting in the open. As for catching, "he can catch as good as anybody," said Beachell. Both, he added, were fast.

Off the run and shoot formation used by PHS, the ends are called upon to do more than just catch. "There is a lot of play action, and blocking on end runs," said Wood. "They have to psych their man out constantly — whether they're going to block or run a pattern." In Diamond and Warfield he feels he has two of the best.

In reserve are senior Phil Bryce, 6-1, 168, who saw limited action last year, and a pair of juniors: John Madden (5-8) and Steve Tomlinson, 6-1, 188.

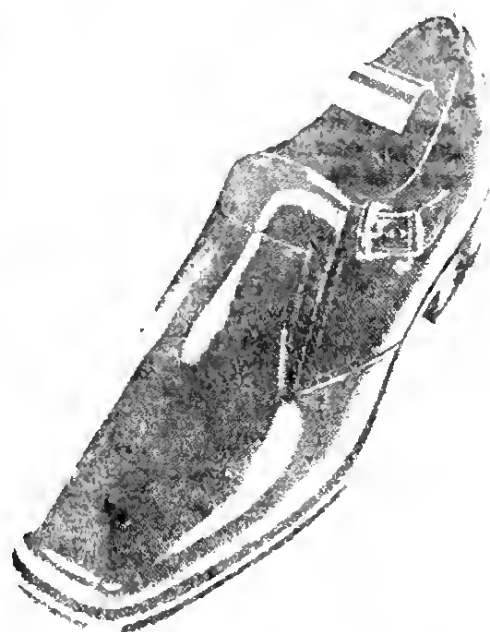

Wood reported that Tomlinson will be the team's placement kicker, replacing Ned Fry, who performed so well in that department for the Blue and White the previous three years. Fry, who converted three or four field goals at tempts last season, is attending Penn State.

Wood added that Tomlinson, a left footed soccer style kicker, has been working hard all summer at perfecting his kicking. He reported that he has had some help from former PHS kicker Chris Gardner who

Sports In Princeton

Back again for another crack is strong Angelo Arcaro, 5-10, 168 pounds, a fine wrestler, who missed the whole season last year with a broken wrist. A good ball player who, Wood said, should break in the line up somewhere, if not as an offensive guard.

"The most improved player on the team" is the tag the two coaches have hung on 214 pound 5-11 Blair Thompson. "He really wants to play."

Juniors are 6-1, 174-pound Ken Hill and Alex Kinnan. Kinnan is only 5-8, 175 but remember his name; PHS fans are going to be hearing more from this one. Kinnan is solid, aggressive and a good hitter. "As a hitter, I rank him with Caponi" (Frank Caponi, hard tackling linebacker who co-captained last year's team) said Wood. High praise indeed. Kinnan, Wood continued, "speaks his mind" in fact, he's already told Wood that he is going to be one of his starting linebackers on defense.

First PHS Scrimmage No Test

The first Princeton High School football scrimmage with Manalapan Saturday was "disappointing," according to PHS coach Dick Wood, because it was no contest.

Weakened considerably by the loss of 18 seniors, Manalapan provided no opposition for the Little Tigers who, Wood said, "advanced at will." On the first play from scrimmage, halfback Bob Zinsmeister went 80 yards for a TD. "We had a lot of plays like that," Wood added.

So while the scrimmage was good for the ego, it was meaningless as far as evaluating the early progress of the PHS squad. Wood did comment that the entire PHS defense looked good and that Zinsmeister showed a fine running game.

Pete Watson, the junior reserve quarterback, looked better than he had anticipated, Wood reported, "both running and passing." John Mooney, the number one quarterback, was throwing the ball long against Manalapan, "but I'd rather have him throwing long than too short," Wood added.

The Little Tigers were scheduled to scrimmage Howell (Freehold) here this Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 and Lawrence High School Saturday morning at 10:30 at the Cardinals' field. The home opener with Hamilton is the following Saturday at 11.

but he is still "very coachable."

The four senior guards plus Hill and Kinnan, all of whom look good, have Wood saying he might end up shifting some around or playing two positions. Drummond and Mendelson, he said, would probably play two positions.

"We're not going to attempt to platoon this year," said Wood. "We're going to get the best kid for the best spot—regardless."

Center, we've had trouble getting big centers the past years for some reason, Wood reminded, and this year's starter John Figueroa, is no exception at 171 pounds. But he is a returning letterman, having shared the position last year with Jeff Lewis, and a solid player.

"In the past we did not use a single wing center on defense, but 'Fig' is so good, Wood explained, that we might take a chance and use him both ways."

One of the greatest of all sports today in this country, fishing, was thought to be a stern duty by early colonists who would not openly admit that they enjoyed it. Fishing and hunting too, for that matter were not to be thought of in any other way or manner than a means to an end. The origin of American sports plus hundreds of interesting sidelights and personal experiences of world-renowned athletes of our time and generations gone by will make for a wealth of informative topics, which will appear in this column regularly. Late Registration Friday

The Princeton Midget Football League has announced it will allow late registration for boys who were not unable to sign up last week and for those who were not aware of the program.

Registration will be held Friday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 in the Valley Road School gymnasium. All boys who will be 9 but not 14 during the calendar year 1973 and who live in or attend school in Princeton are eligible. Parents and adults interested in assisting the league may also sign up at that time.

Three junior candidates are Peter Barnett, 6-1, 162; Jim Adriance, 6-0, 160; and Steve Bauer, 5-10, 163, with Adriance having the overall edge in ability. Barnett is the best long ball snapper.

Summing up the line, the tackles are the pre-season question mark but the other spots appear set. And if, as Wood commented, "the other kids stay healthy and free from injury," then (as is true of the backfield) the potential is there; it's a question of whether the coaches will be able to extract it and make it work as a team.

Coaching Changes. Two coaches have left and two have joined Wood's staff. Geoff Hill the 6-5 giant who joined PHS last year from Charleston S.C., has left to become head coach at St. Anthony's High School, where he plans to introduce Wood's run-and-shoot offense. Also stepping down is Ron Dale, a long time member of the staff who worked with freshmen and sophomore players.

New but not really is Bill Cirullo, a former PHS tailback and former PHS coach who did not coach last year for personal reasons. He returns after one year's absence. Conditioning is one of his specialties. Jim O'Neill, who took over as junior baseball coach for the Blue and White last year, will fill the hole left by Hill.

Another new face will be that of Ronald Schwartz, who replaces trainer Tom Malsbury. The latter the first full time trainer for sports at PHS left after one year to accept a fellowship to Arizona State.

Other coaches returning are Marc Anderson, Donald Cartwright and Frank Francisco. Cirullo and Anderson are the freshman coaches; Cartwright will work with the sophomores, while Francisco will and Wood and Benchell in working with the juniors and seniors. Beachell is the head defensive coach.

Next week, TOWN TOPICS will discuss the defense, the schedule and the team's prospects in its September 22 opener with visiting Hamilton.

Tiger Offense Shows Progress in Early Going

Creation of depth in the backfield and development of a dependable defensive line have been two of the principal aims of the Princeton football coaching staff in the first fortnight of practice.

"Progress has been generally satisfactory," Coach Bob Casciola reports. "The players' condition on their return to campus was fine; there have been no injuries sufficient to cause problems, and we are as far along as we could hope to be at this stage of pre-season training. We'll know a good deal more about what we have after we scrimmage Army at West Point Saturday."

An early line on the Tigers is that the offense, particularly the running backs, have shown well; the depth at quarterback (three holdovers, three sophomores) is extremely welcome; but the defense, particularly up front, may be cause for concern. A major search is on for a capable left end on that platoon, and there is real experience only at tackle among the front five.

The linebacking crew and the deep secondary have good first-depth ability, but there is possibly a greater lack of experienced personnel behind them than the Tigers have known in several years. The impression grows that Princeton must score with some frequency in order to stay in most games this season.

An Edge to Flynn. Casciola expects to start Jim Flynn at quarterback against the cadets Saturday, giving him a thin edge in the battle for the starting assignment over senior Fred Dalzell and junior Dave Mistretta. Hopes are that sophomores Ron Beible and Greg Adams will also see action — the teams will play at least five quarters in a controlled scrimmage.

The running backs will in all likelihood be Walt Snickenberger and Jud Wagenseller, a pair of juniors. Sophomore ball carriers who have given good first impressions include Kevin Kaufman, Ed Kuchar, Boh Reid and Steve Buckley.

One player who has been switched twice in three years and is happy to be back where he started is senior Bob Harding. Now 6-3, 220, he was a tight end as a sophomore, became a fullback last fall when there was a shortage of ball carriers and is now back at his original position, doing extremely well.

There is considerable hope for the receiving corps this fall, what with veterans Bill Skinner at split end and Kerry Brown, holder of the career record for receptions, at flanker. A promising sophomore, Neil Chamberlin, has been impressive as Skinner's back-up.

The Tigers' kicking game, something of a question mark in recent years, may also be an asset this season. Back as a junior after a year in which he gained a great deal of experience is 5-10, 170-lb. Bruce Hennemuth to handle the punting.

Thrown into the cauldron of pressure kicking in his first varsity game, he showed unusual cool, eluding an on-rushing Rutgers lineman to get off a long kick from the end zone, when a blocked punt for a probable touchdown seemed a virtual certainty. Hennemuth not only averaged a satisfactory 33.3 yards last fall but earned honorable mention on the All-Ivy team.

John Bartges, whose place-kicking spelled the difference in the 7-6 and 10-7 triumphs over Rutgers and Harvard, has graduated. He will be succeeded by one of two sophomores, Mark Skof and Stuart Morrison.

Both have shown well against a charging line, and both have put the ball over the posts from 25 to 35 yards out. The offense, apparently, will be measurably better than last fall's toothless Tigers.

The jury may, however, stay out on the defense at least two or three games into the 1973 season.

FOOTBALL CLINIC SET

For September 22. Ever wonder how a football offense works, what an athletic trainer does or how a coaching staff functions?

The answers will be provided Saturday, September 22, when Princeton University sponsors its annual football clinic, open to the public free of charge. It is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. and run thru 12 noon in Jadwin Gymnasium.

The program will consist of commentaries by Coach Bob Casciola and his assistants on their respective areas of responsibility, with key members of the '73 team set to work in the demonstrations. Trainer Dick Malacrea will talk on the treatment of injuries and the many safety

Hun Looks to Brighter Season in Football

The Hun School football team is a year away from respectability, according to coach Dave Leete's timetable, but this year's squad should improve on last year's 1-7 record.

But even Leete concedes that the days when Hun could go undefeated in 33 games, as it did in 1968-70, are likely gone forever. "Not with the schedule we play today," he said.

Because of the loss of a large number of seniors, the present campaign for Hun will be a rebuilding one. "This year we'll have to wait and see how strong the other teams are," commented Leete. "We have a lot of inexperience at various positions."

Looking ahead, he predicted: "Next year, in '74, we should be quite strong. We'll lose a couple of key players — that's all." Losing too many seniors the last two seasons is one of the reasons cited by Leete for Hun's decline on the gridiron. In contrast, this year's squad has more juniors and sophomores.

Of twelve returning letter men, seven are seniors including co-captains John Marshall and Kevin Dwyer. Marshall is a 5-11, 185 pound guard and linebacker, while Dwyer is in a three way fight for quarterback with Terry McEwen and Jon Videbeck. The 5-10, 175 pound Dwyer played end last year.

Other seniors are Videbeck, 5-11, 160 pound Princeton resident; Joe Haydu, 5-10, 200-pound running back and defensive lineman; Bob Lang, 5-9, 170-pound center; Bob Rutherford, 5-10, 190-pound guard; and Sandy Buck, 5-11, 210-pound tackle.

Returning juniors include tackles Ron Lovering, 5-11, 220, and Chris Aldrich, 6-1, 215, and Kevin Rafalski, 5-7, 150 pound end. Also Ronnie Cathel, 5-7, 160-pound halfback and Bob McHugh, a defensive halfback, who quarterbacked the Red and Black last year when Videbeck was injured. McHugh, a Princeton resident, is 5-10, 160.

In addition, Leete has seven fine prospects that are shooting to play this year. Leading the list is Dave Clark, an outstanding basketball player for Hun last year, and a transfer from Lawrence High. At 6-3, 215, Clark will play end and defensive tackle.

Greg Cortina, the Man mooth (265 pounds) tackle who starred for Hun in that 33-game string and who is now assisting Leete in coaching, described Clark as a tough hater with lots of mobility. Clark is a senior.

Cortina, incidentally, who left Notre Dame when he couldn't participate in both track and football (he is an outstanding shot putter) is sitting out a year from the University of Pennsylvania, because of injuries.

Transfers to Help. Three junior transfer students who played the sport as sophomores at their respective schools are Kelvin Maxie, 6-0, 198 pound tackle from Jacksonville, Fla.; Anthony DiPastina, 5-11, 195-pound guard and defensive tackle from Notre Dame High School; and Bruce LiSooy, 5-9, 165-pound halfback from Westfield. LiSooy, 5-9, 165-pound halfback from Westfield, LiSooy, said Leete, has "good speed and should help out a lot."

Sophomore up from the jayvee team are Nate Harris, a 5-10, 185-pound fullback who has been moved to guard, and McEwen, another Princeton resident. McEwen is 5-10, 165. From Nottingham is Jackie Percell, a 5-9, 175-pound candidate for end and linebacker.

Off the early season depth charts, Dwyer, Videbeck, McHugh and McEwen are battling each other for the quarterback position. Haydu, Cathel and LiSooy are the leading backfield candidates.

At center is Lang, Marshall the one guard, Harris or DiPastina the other; Maxie and Lovering the tackles and Clark and Rafalski the ends. Bob Ziegler, a senior, will bat tle Rafalski for the one end spot.

Emphasis on Quickness. "We're going to emphasize quickness, both in the backfield and line this year," said Leete. In the glory years when Hun had the personnel, it could disdain quickness; it simply ran over its opponents, sticking mainly to the ground.

Last year, Hun went with a variety of formations including the T with a split end, I and Wishbone. Leete said he may abandon the Wishbone this season but he promised there would be "no more running into the line." The attack, he said, would be a mixture of running and passing.

Same Schedule. Those years when Hun was steamrolling everyone in sight it was a member of the Penn Jersey League. Some of the weaker teams began to yell "foul." Hun has since become a member of Group A of the N.J. Independent Schools Athletic Association Conference.

Other schools in its group are Newark Academy, Peddie, Pennington, Blair Academy, Delbarton, Pingry and Admiral Farragut. Hun will meet each one this season, including its lone non-conference foe — Princeton High School; the same eight teams it played last year. "They're all tough," Leete said.

Leete, in his 11th year at Hun, is starting his fifth year as head football coach.

Others on his staff, in addition to Cortina, are Bill McQuade, who will handle the receivers and secondary; Jim MacLeod, a newcomer, who played for Hun four years ago and was a tackle and the University of Delaware; the'll work with the backs) and Kemp Gregory, another newcomer who replaced the parted Sandy Stoddard. Gregory, who will assist McQuade in coaching the baseball team, has had no football coaching experience.

The program will conclude with a raffle of tickets for all home games and a football autographed by the 1973 team. Youngsters will have a chance to meet the players during a brief intermission and at the conclusion of the clinic.

"It is very important to the team, to the coaches, to the University and to me personally for Princeton area residents to know about our football program, how it works and what it takes to be successful," Casciola remarked. "I feel the clinic is an excellent way for our staff and players to become more involved with in the community. We are all looking forward to it."

Governors' Cup of Stoke in Springdale Tournament

Play began last weekend in the annual Governors' Cup tournament at Springdale Golf with 42 twosomes competing in the qualifying round. Sixteen, whose scores ranged from 63 to 69, won the right to match - play elimination.

The net scores were based on better ball of partners with full handicaps allowed. Bob Olson and Asa Farr, the medalists, took their first-round match from Don Shaw and Bob McCarthy, 2 up.

In other matches, Robert Lewis and Ross Shrader defeated Roland Smith and Charlie Foster, 2 and 1; Bob Cronin and Jim Schwartz won from George Savory and Paul Erler, 3 and 2, while Kester Pierson and Bill Quackenbush advanced by default over Tom James and Gil Spencer.

John Stone and Don Conner eliminated the defending champions, Alan Poole and Paul Schafer, 6 and 5; Jim Mead and Andy Cahill won from Joe Masick and Mike Shillaber, 1 up; Jack Futerer and John Budd defeated Dick Schoch and Dick Thompson, 2 up; and the Norman Schueles, rather and son, won over Jack Peritone and Arne Booth, 6 and 4.

Play will continue this weekend, with 18 hole matches both Saturday and Sunday. The finals are scheduled for Saturday, September 22.

be held this Saturday with all but one of the top eight seeds still in action.

The only player to be knocked out was the No. 3 seed Marly Devlin, beaten by Brent Switzer, seeded No. 6 Harold Mallin of Great Neck, New York is seeded first, Ed Faulkner of Westfield, second; Doug Potkay of Trenton, fourth; Bruce Van Cannon, a Princeton University student, fifth; Scott Stoner of Trenton, seventh; and Ken Wilson of Princeton, eighth. The finals will be played Sunday.

Also on Saturday, the quarter-finals of the Women's tourney will be held with No. 1 seeded Mimi Kanarek matched against Carla Gaizer. Ms. Kanarek is ranked fourth in the east. Marie McCallum of Hopewell seeded second will play Mary Goodenough; Brenda Johnson of Philadelphia, seeded third, will meet Denise Allen; and Helen Zaar, the fourth seed, will play Linda Hansen.

BOWEN DOUBLE WINNER

In Summer Tennis, Princeton University President Dr. William Bowen captured two shore tennis tournaments this summer, winning the Annual Avalon Singles Tennis Tournament in July and the Stone Harbor Men's Tournament in August.

The Avalon event featured two Bowens. Dr. Bowen's son, David, also fared well. In the third round he defeated Alan Ameche, who was a professional football player with the Baltimore Colts. David reached the quarter finals, where he lost in three sets to Peter Rowe of Middletown. Rowe eventually lost to President Bowen in the finals, 6-1, 6-0.

David Bowen had his big moment in the Stone Harbor Junior Championships which started with round robin matches. Competing in the 16 and under category, David was one of the eight highest scoring players from the first phase of the tournament, which enabled him to compete in the finals as the number two seeded player. His victory over Jeff Allen, 6-3, 6-4 brought him the title in the finals.

Hole-in-One Sunday

The annual hole-in-one contest sponsored by the Princeton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association 130 (Borough - Township West Windsor) will be held Sunday from 10 to 6 at the Springdale Practice Range, Lower Springdale Road. Two shots for $1.

First prize is a color TV set. Many other prizes are available. Proceeds are used to aid youth programs sponsored by the PBA throughout the year.

Just as a great painting is more than canvas and paints, there are somethings that go beyond the sum of their parts. The Porsche Targa is such an object.

It is a piece of machinery whose purpose far exceeds transporting you from one point to another. Its goal is to afford the ultimate driving experience. In performance, in engineering, in comfort.

The Targa has come amazingly close to that goal; each year, with subtle improvements, a bit more.

First, consider its superbly thought-out features. It has a built-in roll bar, and a huge fixed rear window. To give the car the practicality of a hardtop coupe. And you the exhilarating experience of a roadster.

It has an aerodynamic shape, to protect you from wind blast. And a rear-engine design that has been steadily improved upon for 25 years. All controls are meticulously engineered to be functional and logically accessible.

"That's IT"

Yet it is the total effect of these innovations that impresses.

With the removable top stored in the trunk, cushioned in luxurious bucket seats, you ride in "Belle Epoque" comfort.

But the grandest feature of the Targa is the experience of driving it.

The handling is quick, correct, precise, because of Porsche's legendary engineering. Putting the driver and car in perfect collaboration. It is almost as if you just "think" where you want the car to go.

The Targa is available in all three 911 models: 911T, 911E, and 911S.

But be warned.

It is very difficult to be humble about owning any Porsche. And if it's a Targa, that's IT.

CONTRACT NEGOTIATED
Between Rand and Mathematica. Subcontracts totaling an estimated $4.38 million over two years for the conduct of field operations in a Health Insurance Study are being negotiated between Mathematica, Inc. and the Rand Corporation.

Mathematica just completed a one-year contract with Rand for design and development of field operations for the Health Insurance Study. Continuation of the project was assured recently when the Office of Economic Opportunity approved a grant to Rand for $9,089,711 for work into late 1975. OEO transferred its sponsorship of the experiment to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in early August.

Through present contract negotiations, Mathematica anticipates gross revenues of $1,992,324 for conduct of first year field operations and an estimated $2,388,413 the second year. While final agreements are being concluded, work is continuing under a letter of intent.

Dayton, Ohio was chosen last year as the first operating site for the experiment which is designed to evaluate how people use available health services under different insurance plans.

Within a year, 550 families are expected to be enrolled in Dayton. The experiment is expected eventually to involve 2,000 families at four sites in different sections of the country.

Families participating in the experiment will be given different health insurance plans, varying from those which pay for all medical expenses to those which pay for some portion. Each family will receive one of the plans without having to pay premiums.

Mathematica's Urban Opinion Surveys Division, under the direction of David N. Kershaw, Vice President, is nationally recognized in the administration of such large-scale studies of social policy. UOS has previously conducted multi-year experiments on in-

DIRECTOR NAMED

For Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Barbara McDaniel has been named executive director of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. McDaniel assumed her duties Sept. 1.

Mrs. McDaniel obtained her bachelor of science degree in broadcast communications from Southern Illinois University.

Before coming to Princeton Mrs. McDaniel was a public affairs consulting executive with the Pace Corporation of Stratford, Connecticut. Prior to that she held the position of assistant director of public information for the city of Spartanburg, S.C. where she worked with several state and federal programs including model cities.

Mrs. McDaniel's husband, Robert M. McDaniel, is manager of Nassau Broadcastings WPST FM in Trenton. Their teen age choir of boys and girls also will be organized later in the fall. In addition to singing for the regular Sunday services at Trinity, the choir participate in a series of concerts.

Mrs. Barbara McDaniel

WHO PROFITS?

Tight money and high interest on loans are having a profound impact on the public. While the average borrower understands generally why we are having inflation, many people are probably unfamiliar with the real causes and significance of high interest rates and money shortage.

Dr. Paul S. Nadler, Professor of Business Administration at Rutgers, has written three articles on this subject, which have been provided as a public service by the New Jersey Bankers Association. This is the second in the series.

From Tight Money. When you have inflation, as we have today, commercial banks are put right in the middle.

On one side, they have the Federal Reserve System which controls the amount they can lend. On the other, they have an increased demand for loans from people, commerce and industry.

So they're put in the position of enforcing monetary policy. To help stop inflation, someone has to say "no". Someone has to put the brake on spending.

The job falls on the bankers. And since they are the only ones in contact with the public, they become the villains.

More Selective. Faced with "tight money" and Federal Reserve restraints, banks become more selective. Some borrowers get turned down who would normally be accommodated. Interest rates start to climb.

At first, it appears that this whole process of monetary policy during tight money is just great for the commercial banking industry. While everyone else faces restraint, the banks can charge more for one of their principal services.

True, when money gets tight, banks earn more on their loans. But other things are happening too.

First, the banks are limited in the amount of new money they can create. Second, they must pay more for the money they obtain in savings and other time deposits.

And when they need emergency funds from the Federal Reserve Bank, they must pay a higher discount rate imposed to further discourage the availability of money.

So, while banks get more income on the loans they do make, it is offset to a high degree by lower volume and increased costs.

Middlemen. Thus your bankers are the middlemen in making credit control effective. And while, on balance, they may find themselves a little better off in profits during tight money, they would prefer easier money rates and not being blamed for credit restraint policy.

The key point is that someone must do the unpopular task of limiting demand for goods and services when we cannot create all that people want.

The job has to be done. And to try to stop inflation without limiting someone's ability to borrow and spend, would be like trying to halt a traffic jam without a policeman to make some motorists wait their turn.

If inflation is to be stopped, someone must be restrained. Here in the United States, the best and fairest way is through monetary policy and control over the ability of the banks to make loans.

While bankers are not happy in the "bad guy" role, they know it's a small price to pay for the strength of our economy.

$200 MINIMUM ADOPTED

For Accounts By NJNB. New Jersey National Bank of Princeton has recently altered its policy in order to provide free checking for depositors who maintain a minimum monthly balance of $200 in their checking accounts.

If the account drops below the $200 minimum monthly balance, a charge of $2 a month will be levied. Senior citizens are entitled to free accounts with no minimum balance required.

This move makes New Jersey National Bank of Princeton the first bank within the town itself to have lowered the barrier on checking account service charges to a $200 minimum.

ACCOUNTANTS TO MEET

To Start Fall Season. The Princeton Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, September 19, at the Old York Inn, Hightstown. The social hour begins at 6.

Speaker for the evening will be J. Oliver McGonigle, a manager in the Newark office of Haskins & Sells, Certified Public Accountants. A member of the State Society of Certified Public Accountants, he will speak on "Financial Statement Presentation — Current Developments."

ART In Princeton

FALL WORKSHOPS SET
At Studio on the Canal, "An invitation to watercolor", a new workshop, will open at the Studio on the Canal for the fall term beginning September 25. Conducted by Charles Dunn, the course is designed for beginners and will be given for 10 sessions on Wednesday evenings.

It will include the exploration of the basic techniques of transparent watercolor and design fundamentals with specific attention paid to problem areas. Students may expect to gain a basic fluency in the language of watercolor.

Mr. Dunn began his studies with Margaret S. Johnson at the Museum of Modern Art, and continued with Rex Ashlock in New York; Rex Goreleigh and Alexander Lee at the Studio and in Maine this past summer with the Whitney Watercolor Painting Tours. Hughie Lee-Smith's oil painting workshop will convene Monday evenings. Criticism in this course is highly individualized and based solidly on the fundamentals of good painting. A graduate of the Cleveland School of Art, Wayne State University and Detroit Institute of Arts, he has been associated with the Studio for the past 12 years.

A Tuesday morning watercolor, oils and acrylics painting workshop with outdoor tours, with Mr. Lee instructing, is also scheduled. Additional subjects will include still life and the figure. The workshops is open to beginners and advanced students.

Also on Thursday evening, a similar workshop involving an all-media instruction will be conducted by Mr. Goreleigh. In addition to the basic instruction involved, demonstrations in each media will be given. Mr. Goreleigh has been instructing art in Princeton since 1947.

Glenn Cullen's sculpture workshop will again be held on Tuesday evening. The workshop is operated on a cooperative plan. Emphasis will be placed on the figure, working in clay and wax. The instruction is personalized in order to accommodate students at various levels of experience.

Mr. Cullen has maintained an interest in sculpture of the human figure since high school, when he received national recognition in the Scholastic Award Contest. His studies have been with Brum Lucheschi at the New School in New York.

The popular sketch sessions held in the past on Sunday mornings, are planned for 10 to noon on Saturdays. Open to artists and students, no registration is necessary.

Although ceramic sculpture is not included in the fall workshop schedule, Potters Wheel Rental will be available for the serious student potter. For more information call the Studio at 452-9053.

FOR COMMON CAUSE

Workshop Scheduled. Nine residents of the Princeton and Lawrenceville area who are members of New Jersey Common Cause will participate this Saturday in Common Cause's first Media Workshop to be held at the Rutgers University Commons in New Brunswick.

Those attending from the Princeton area are J.S. Thornton, newly appointed Common Cause coordinator for the Fifth Congressional District; James M. Banner Jr., state chairman of New Jersey Common Cause; Nancy Becker, executive director of the organization; Suzanne Fremon, state media chairman and co-chairman of the workshop and Joan Bartl, who will speak on participation by radio stations.

From Lawrenceville, participants will be Maureen Mooney, Common Cause coordinator for the Fourth Congressional District; Cheri Johnson, Arthur Nelson and Sandy Thatcher.

The purpose of the workshop is to coordinate Common Cause's state-wide plans for publicizing its state legislative reform program. Common Cause is the national "citizens lobby" founded by John Gardner.

WATERGATE DOWNGRADED

By Frelinghuysen Constituents. "Watergate is taking a back seat to other more important issues in the minds of most Fifth District residents," said Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen as he announced some preliminary results of the 1,600,000 questionnaires mailed to his constituents.

Mr. Frelinghuysen continued, "The people appear to be far more concerned with inflation, the energy crises and crime than with the Watergate affair."

He reported that his office has already received more than 35,000 responses to the questionnaires, which were mailed to residents of New Jersey's Fifth Congressional District. Taking an initial sample, Frelinghuysen disclosed that less than 5% of the respondents consider Watergate to be among the "highest national priorities."

In answer to Question No. 23, "What three issues do you consider to be of the highest national priority?" Controlling Inflation, Energy Crisis, Crime Control, and Pollution Control were given high priority, while drug abuse, health care, Watergate, War in Indochina and Education received less than 10% rating.

Frelinghuysen said that while other issues concern most of the respondents, Watergate does provoke a range of comments. Included among these are: "The average citizen does not believe Nixon had anything to do with Watergate and most of them don't care about political spying because it has been going on since the beginning of politics," and "it has become such an ugly, vindictive show, which apparently is of more concern to our government leaders than our real problems."

Obituaries

Mrs. Norine D. Olden, 68, of 30 Armour Road, died September 9 at the Princeton Medical Center. Born in Peekskill, N.Y., she had lived here since 1938.

Mrs. Olden belonged to Springdale Golf Club and the Present Day Club.

Widow of Dr. Loren Olden, she is survived by two sons, Lance of Watertown, Conn., and John of Bedford, N.Y.; two brothers, John J. and William B. Dorsey, both of Peekskill; five sisters, Mrs. Helen Hawthorne of Forest Hills, N.Y., Mrs. Irene Crawford, Mrs. Annunziata Davidson and Miss Mary Dorsey, all of Peekskill, and two grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at the Princeton University Chapel, with arrangements made by the Mather Funeral Home. Contributions in her memory may be made to Westminster Choir College.

Frederick P. Reese, 50, of 25 George Street, Lawrenceville, died September 3 at Ramapo General Hospital, Spring Valley, N.Y.

Associated with the New Jersey Division of Taxation, he was a graduate of Lawrenceville and Lehigh University. Mr. Reese had been a prisoner of war during World War II while serving with the U.S. Army and had earned the Purple Heart. He belonged to the Nassau Club of Princeton and the Lawrenceville Fire Co.

Son of the late Albert H. Reese, former Mercer County Clerk, and the late Helen G. Reese, he is survived by three brothers, Albert H. Jr., of Lawrence Township; Charles H. G. of New York and Geoffrey W. of Lawrenceville.

The service was held at a Trenton funeral home, the Rev. H. Dana Fearon of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was in Ewing Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Mauley Farley, 95, of 58 Wiggins Street, died September 6 in the Lawrenceville Nursing Home. A native of New York, she had lived there for many years before coming to live on Wiggins Street with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Tully.

She is survived also by an other daughter, Mrs. Olivia F. Cadley of Garden City, Long Island, and four grandchildren. Her husband was the late Peter A. Farley.

Mass of the Resurrection was held at St. Paul's Church, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery, Brooklyn. Arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Margaret Mason Wyckoff, 92, of 33 Forest Avenue, Lawrence Township, died September 10. Born in Zion, she had lived most of her life in Hopewell.

Widow of George L. Wyckoff, she is survived by two sons, Charles of Hopewell and Robert of Watertown, a daughter, Mrs. Edith Allen of Hightstown.

News Of The CHURCHES

DR. ANDERSON TO PREACH

At Lutheran Service. Dr. Rev. Herbert Anderson, professor of Pastoral Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary, will preach the sermon at the first Sunday of the fall term, of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Princeton Junction.

The Prince of Peace Church holds its services in the Maurice Hawk School with services beginning at 9:30 a.m. and Sunday School for all ages beginning at 10:30 a.m. All are welcome to these services.

Dr. Anderson, vice pastor of the church, graduated from Gustavus Adolphus College, the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago and received his doctorate from Drew University. Before his Princeton Theological Seminary calling, Dr. Anderson had served New Jersey.

Further information regarding this service or the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church may be secured by calling Dr. Anderson at 921-7030 or Norm Nuding, president of the church at 799-0034.

NEW MINISTER NAMED

By Trinity Church. The Rev. R. Cotton Fite has joined Trinity Church as a staff associate and will preach for the first time on Sunday morning, September 16 at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. services.

Rev. R. Cotton Fite

Father Fite will be responsible for the development of a pastoral support and lay ministry program. In addition he will work with The Christian Action Board and serve as staff liaison with The Trinity Counseling Service.

For the past five years he has been working closely with The Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania and has most recently served as Director of The Denbigh Conference Center of the Diocese and as part-time Chaplain for the students of The Philadelphia Divinity School.

A lively interest in the Church's ministry to society led him to a year's study at the ecumenically sponsored training center in Chicago, headed by The Very Rev. James Morton, now Dean of The Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City. He then became Executive Secretary of the Interdenominational Directors of Urban Mission in Philadelphia; and later, Associate Director of Metropolitan Christian Council of Philadelphia.

His past responsibilities include a Curacy at St. Paul's Church in Chestnut Hill, Pennsylvania and the pastorate of St. Luke's Church, Kensington, Pennsylvania.

Father Fite is a graduate of Williams College, studied at Union Seminary in New York and graduated from The General Seminary in that city. Before entering the Seminary he taught history for a year at the South Miami Country Day School, Miami, Florida.

There will be an opportunity for parishioners to greet Father Fite, his wife Linda and their two daughters June and Kathy on Sunday morning. A reception is planned after Church School registration at 10:30 a.m. in Pierce Hall and also following the 11 a.m. service at a simple reception on the Green outside the entrance of the church.

"A more typical comment than those on Watergate," said Mr. Frelinghuysen, "was a letter which states, 'Why isn't something being done about rent control? Food Prices? Taxes or property problems?'"

The Fifth District Congressman concluded, "according to these results so far, Congress is expected to turn its attention to more pressing problems.

Final results of the poll will soon be computer-tabulated and released.

COCKTAIL BUFFET SET

To Benefit Ann Martindell. Ann Martindell, Democratic candidate for the state senate, will be honored at a cocktail buffet open to the public Saturday, September 22.

Guests are expected to include such prominent political figures as Congressman Frank Thompson, former Governor Richard J. Hughes and former Governor Robert B. Meyner, all among the sponsors of the fund-raising event.

The party will be held from 6 to 10 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Besselaar, 132 Elm Road — Mrs. Martindell's own home until last year. In addition to cocktails and dinner, the event will also offer music for dancing.

Tickets at $15 per person are available from co-chairmen Mrs. Gino R. Treves and Mrs. Donald Mackie, with a reservation deadline set for September 17. Committee members also include Mrs. Edward Farley and Mrs. William J. Brennan.

Sponsors of the event also include Mr. and Mrs. Archibald S. Alexander Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Alpert, Mr. and Mrs. Junius J. Bleiman, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Bohen, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brennan, Mr. and Mrs. David Brodsky, Mr. and Mrs. Brendan T. Byrne (the Democratic candidate for Governor), Mr. and Mrs. Blair Clark, Mrs. Wendell Davis and Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson Dilworth. Also, Dean and Mrs. Ernest Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet J. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Kauffman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klein (Assemblywoman Ann Klein), Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Knebel, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leone, Mr. and Mrs. William D. VANDEVENTER VICTORIAN

The personality of its period was built into this roomy half house, and the present owners have enhanced it with imaginative and tasteful renovating. The ceilings are high, the windows big and numerous, so that the house has a lovely light, practical and uncramped air about it. Living and dining rooms, both attractive and inviting, family kitchen, cozy TV room, two lovely big bedrooms, one smaller one, and 1 1/2 baths occupy the first two floors. Topping it all off, in more ways than one, is the marvelous, get-away-from-it all third floor master suite—handsome big bedroom, capacious study, dressing room and fine bath—with its view over rooftops and through tall trees. The flexible floor plan makes the rooms usable in various ways, depending on owner choice. A summer porch overlooks the small yard which is presently practically care-free, potentially an enchanting garden; again, owner's choice. Added attraction: anyone living here needn't worry about gasoline shortages! Offered at $79,500

UNFURNISHED HOUSE FOR RENT. Most attractive, clean
4 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath house. Big family room. Modern kitchen, 2 fireplaces! Pretty country setting on outskirts of Princeton Twp. Available now. $300 monthly

NASSAU ST. PROFESSIONAL OFFICE FOR RENT. Three rooms, air-conditioning, parking. Available now. $300 monthly

FORM FOLLOWS FUNCTION

Architect planned for a large and active family. This modern house is above all, functional. There is privacy for everyone and space for everything. The spacious interior includes a pretty living room with fireplace, large open kitchen and dining room combination, study (or bedroom), 4 bedrooms and 2 baths, a two room suite plus bath with outside entrance, large recreation room. A brick walled terrace is shaded by some of the most beautiful trees in town.

Offered at $110,500

The Roman influence in house architecture was obvious in Europe right through the Middle Ages. The castles were heavily fortified, but the houses of serfs and peasants were usually simple structures of one or more rooms with masonry walls and thatched or sodded roofs. More elaborate farmhouses were built later usually in the form of a rectangular farmyard enclosed by sheds, barns, etc. The house was generally of two stories. In rural America, there is something of the Roman influence to be seen even today!

THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY

A five bedroom delight in the Rocky Hill area. A right off of the flagstone foyer leads you to a front to back living room with built-in bookshelves and cupboards. A fireplace in this room adds that special touch. The paneled family room has sliding glass doors to the rear deck. The sunny, eat-in kitchen is the ideal place for those early morning breakfasts while the dining room with its oversized windows lends itself to easy entertaining dinners. A study or extra bedroom and laundry area complete the first floor. Carpeted stairs take you to four full sized bedrooms on the second floor.

$68,500

THE AUTUMN LEAVES

are beginning to show their full colors on this heavily wooded, private lot around a unique two story colonial home. Start a fire in the family room fireplace and keep "warm" on these cool Fall evenings. The ample sized living room, dining room, maid's room with bath and laundry area are all on the first floor. A master suite and bath are one of the special features of this magnificent home. Three other bedrooms are on the second floor.

$97,500

FOR THE VERY YOUNG

at heart—a home for the growing family. A two story colonial home situated convenient to work, school or play. A front to back living room with paneled study to the left gives added space and room to grow. The eat-in kitchen and spacious dining room complete the first floor. Three corner bedrooms let all the air and light in on the second floor.

$64,500

354 NASSAU STREET

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP FARM NEAR PRINCETON

In the scenic Canal Road area on the way to Gettysburg is a 46 acre tract with a fascinating remodeled building that could have been an early stagecoach stop.

The main building is renovated throughout and is currently divided into four rental units. The owner's apartment has a large eat-in kitchen, dining room, living room, three bedrooms and bath. The three tenant's units are one bedroom apartments each with an eat-in kitchen and living room.

The outbuildings include a two car garage with storage area, and a handsome red barn with six box stalls and six straight running water and septic provisions for future use. The extensive white paddock pony ring and cleared hayfield make the property an excellent investment for the racing enthusiast.

The exceptional land has good frontage and is significantly cleared yet wooded enough so that development is facilitated for the potential builder of fine homes in a semi-wooded setting. Zoning is currently 1½ acre. Fronting on open space in a historic area and asking $315,000

"In A West Windsor Park"

On a delightful West Windsor cul de sac surrounded by a wonderful park is an exceptional four bedroom two story colonial. From the stunning formal living room to the pleasantly paneled family room and large eat-in kitchen the keynote is spaciousness. Even the master bedroom suite is uniquely large and private. Centrally air conditioned throughout and available in time for school. $53,900

"Prince Town Colonial"

This two story Colonial in Princeton has a slate floor, a living room with fireplace, small study, two full baths, three bedrooms and a pleasant front porch with a swing. $51,000

This older Princeton townhouse offers convenient in-town amenities at an out-of-town price. Living room, dining room eat-in kitchen, three bedrooms, bath and a neat little front porch. $24,000
